Claims Former Portsmouth Man Is Being Held While Police Are Probing Death

Mrs. Mary Graver-Daniels appeared at the police headquarters Thursday afternoon to seek transportation to Columbus, declaring she wanted to return to her husband, a former Portsmouth man, who she said is in trouble, but the mayor was out. She said the following newspaper clipping which was sent to her by Eva Seymour, a friend, refers to her husband:

Columbus, O., August 12.—Geo. A. Daniels, 47, of 150 West Rich street, a dancing master and decorator, was held in the city prison Thursday for investigation while Coroner Benkert and the police are probing the death of Miss Ella Schmitt, 40, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schmitt of 978 Park street, South, who died at Mercy hospital Wednesday from what is believed to have been bichloride of mercury poisoning.

In a death-bed confession, Miss Schmitt, is said by the police to have accused Daniels of administering bichloride of mercury tablets 10 days ago to perform an illegal operation to forestall maternity, less than a month away.

Daniels' Statement
Daniels, the police say, confessed that he procured the tablets at an East Long street pharmacy for Miss Schmitt, but denies having administered them.

According to the police investigation, Miss Schmitt, who was employed at the Thomas shirt factory, met Daniels as a dancing instructor. Daniels has been married twice and says his second wife, Mrs. Grace Daniels, is in Pittsburgh but he has been sending her money for her support.

Miss Schmitt is survived by her parents, a sister, Mrs. Edith Becker, and a brother, Frank Schmitt, both of whom are in the West.

Shock To Parents
Mr. and Mrs. Peter Schmitt, aged parents of the girl, were almost prostrated at their home over her death.

"Ella was a good girl," said Mr. Schmitt, Thursday. "She was home from work sick and was taken to the hospital for kidney trouble. We do not believe there was anything else the matter with her. Yesterday they notified us that she was worse and before we got to the hospital she was dead."

"We don't know anything about this man Daniels except that he used to come here to the house to see her, and we supposed he was all right."

Mrs. Daniels said that she and husband separated recently.

In Memory

Of Ernest Eynon Mitchell, little son of Mr. and Mrs. George Mitchell, of Navvoo, who departed this life August 8th, 1915, aged 1 year, 11 months and 14 days.

O, the empty cradle,
That must now be put away,
For dear little Eynon
Will not need it, never more, by night or day;
For that pure and dreamless
sleeper
Never more they will rock to rest;

His bright head upon the pillow,
Shall no more be softly pressed.
For in the dawn of early morning
Death's pale angel noiseless sped,
And took from us our baby
Only for our Lord he said.

In a easket white as snowflakes,
Nestling under 'neath the flowers,
Is this pure and spotless Lily,
That a little while was ours.

Little hands so small and tender,
And a face so bright and fair;
Thus we bid farewell dear Eynon
To meet thee in a land more rare.
From a friend,
MRS. EFFIE GEORGE.

Gray broadcloth is the material used for this afternoon dress. The skirt is circular and has a yoke slightly gathered, of black Georgette crepe. From the shoulders, gray broadcloth is caught to form a sort of cape. This falls to the hips and is laced up the sides with black silk cords. A medium width belt completes the dress.

The Markets

NEW YORK STOCKS

New York, Aug. 12.—A few of the war specialties registered declines, but these were offset by further activity in Allis Chalmers common and preferred. Allis Chalmers common was offered in an initial lot of 4,500 shares at 40 to 41½, adding almost 2 points to yesterday's gain of 7½ and the preferred soon gained 4 points, both selling at high records. Bethlehem steel preferred jumped 9 points to 160 also a new high for that stock. The movement in Allis Chalmers issues was based on rumors that Bethlehem steel in this had acquired control of that property. Changes otherwise were mainly fractional.

Such hitherto obscure stocks as Runney common and preferred and National Enameling were taken up later and with others equally in conspicuous comprised the bulk of the first hour's trading at advances of 3 to 6 points. Bethlehem Steel common almost kept pace with the preferred, gaining six points, and Baldwin Locomotive made similar improvement. Half a score of equipment and industrial issues, including Harvester, American Can, American Car, Goodrich, and Cast Iron Pipe rose two to four points. Canadian Pacific receded almost 3 points. By midday, however more normal conditions prevailed in this group. Bonds were firm.

Increased confusion marked the later dealings, standard shares falling under heavy selling, while some specialties were at highest prices. The closing was irregular.

War shares dominated today's market, railway issues being under pressure because of dissatisfaction at the small rate increase to western roads.

CHICAGO GRAIN AND PROVISIONS

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Bullish cables led to fresh advances today in the wheat market here. Rather free selling, however, in which one of the largest houses on the "change took a conspicuous part, brought about a decided setback. The bears made much of the excellent progress of the harvest in the northwest. After opening ½ off to 1½ up prices reacted to well below last night's level all around.

Corn swayed with wheat. There appeared to be numerous resting orders to sell on any bulge. Opening prices, which varied from the same as last night to ½ higher were followed by a moderate general downturn.

Oats showed more firmness than other grain. Wet weather furthered the incentive. Packers selling weakened provisions. High prices for hogs were ignored. Buying was only of a scattered character.

Reports of buying on the part of mills and exporters, especially at Kansas City, tended afterward to cause renewed strength in wheat. The close was unsettled, with September $1.11½ and Dec. $1.09½, and the market as a whole ½ off to 1½ up compared with last night.

Later the corn market was steadied by the lightness of country offerings and by the cool weather, closing prices were at ½ to ½ net decline.

Subsequently the market turned strong, with pork leading. The reason was recovering by a leading short.

OPENING PRICES

COMMUNING WITH ONESELF.
It is in thy power, whenever thou shalt choose, to retire into thyself. For nowhere with more quiet or with more freedom from trouble does a man retire, particularly when he has within him such thoughts that by looking into them he is immediately in perfect tranquillity.—Marcus Aurelius.

IN THE WAKE OF TEUTON ADVANCE; WOUNDED AND DYING RUSS

This photograph was taken while the Germans were making their furious drive on Warsaw. Heaped all about the field, just as they had fallen in the heat of action, during their vain endeavor to check the advancing Germans, these Russians fought gloriously to the very end.

HOW THE MAYOR FEELS

Hon. H. H. Keys, City.

My dear Mr. Keys:—

I have the honor to congratulate you upon your having received, at the hands of your party, this day, the nomination for mayor of this city.

It will be my pleasure to respect you as a candidate as sincerely as I have heretofore respected you as a friend and neighbor, and if it be so decreed I shall pass into your hands your commission from the people to carry on the duties of this office and assist you in every way possible immediately after this is done to get your policies before the public. It will be my purpose to have the citizens advantage themselves of the judgment of my successor immediately after the election rather than have them wait until the first of January following.

With highest personal regards to you and your family, I ask the honor to be,

ADAM FRICK, Mayor.

PLEASANT HILL

There were three interesting games played on the Pleasant Hill ball diamond last Saturday and Sunday. The Rush-ton Outa ventured to Pleasant Hill and were beaten 10 to 8. Tick Ridge returned the game Sunday and were defeated again, which was the fourth game, the score being 6 to 8. The McCullough ball team tried the boys a "whirl," after they had beaten Encouraging Him a Little.

RACER'S WIFE CAN DRIVE MACHINE, TOO

Mrs. Dario Resta, wife of the famous automobile racer who recently broke the world's record for 100 miles in Chicago, is something of a driver herself. When the pair go out for a little pleasure spin, Mrs. Resta is often seen at the wheel. The accompanying picture was made in Chicago the other day while Mrs. Resta was driving her husband to the track, where a little later he made the new speed record.

FEMININE FACTS AND FANCIES

Recognition of a Fault.

There is one sure help toward the cure of every fault, and that is the honest recognition of it.—Grillparzer.

HERE is a quaint story somewhere in the letters of Dickens about two old ladies in Switzerland. Their houses stood high, and as they grew older they found the mountain air trying. Why not move down to the valley? The question produced a superior smile. So easy to talk of such a tremendous change! Move down to the valley, indeed! Why, what would become of the library? They could not bear to abandon the library—leave it unworked for or to subject it to the perils of removal. So they stayed up in the trying mountain air. And Dickens, having seen the great library, prophesied that when the poor old ladies were gone some girl would carry off all the books in her basket.

LOVE OF BEAUTY A VIRTUE

Every one knows persons just like these old women—persons who are owned by their property instead of owning it. In a pleasant little story from the pen of a very modern writer we are given a clever study of another phase of this complex little problem of the relation of a woman to her possessions. Edna, a great dealer, had come to some time and considerable fortune partly because she had a genuine love of beautiful things. She can hardly bear to sell her most precious acquisitions, though selling is her trade.

Now nobody would deny that this affection for beauty, wherever it may be found, is in its way a virtue. In general and the abstract a man or a woman is likely to be the better for being fond of good design and cunning craftsmanship.

This does not lead you to the hopelessly irrational conclusion that "collecting" of all sorts is a moral pursuit. People may, and in fact they do, collect almost any object in nature or civilization. The small archaic who amasses cherry stones and buttons has the exact parallel among the grown-up. Cherry stones are rather useful for the teeth and other commandments than to more elevated paths. There is no compelling effect from the contemplation of piles of cherry stones or even of treasuries of buttons. But, after all, such collections of the useless are still the exception and not the rule. The collecting impulse is generally exercised upon things which have some beauty or grace or intellectual interest, and it is more plausible to remark that people who care for such things are in general better worth liking than those who do not.

But while "collecting" undoubtedly has its good effects it also has some bad ones. For instance, the man or woman who begins collecting usually ends by caring more for his "ricks and stones"—that is, his beautiful possessions—than for anything else in the world. He sometimes puts even his wife and children second to his art objects. He is, in fact, owned by his property, rather than owning it.

This is obviously a vice not confined to collectors. A man may not care a cent for any beautiful thing on earth, and yet be wholly in the grip of his property. Then we call him a miser. If we are to make comparisons the collector certainly has the advantage. It is a more gracious state to live for your class or your Chippendale than to live for your bank account. But there is another way in which the passion for ownership damages many collectors. They want to "make property" of people as well as things, to treat their wives and daughters or husbands and sons like the other objects of art in their collection.

A PROPRIETARY INTEREST.

Again, it is a spirit not confined to the collector. Most of us, unless we are extraordinarily easy-going, have some share of it. We do like to have other people at our disposal, to lay down the law for them and arrange their future, to say to one go and he goeth, to another come and he cometh, to a third do this and she doeth it. Critics have even been known to hint at the horrid heresy that parental love of children is inspired and stimulated by this proprietary interest, and does not survive a life at which children insist upon being emancipated. In which theory there is as much of truth as of nonsense, but enough truth to make it a warning.

Republicans In Seven Counties Are Named For License Boards

Columbus, Aug. 12.—Republicans named by the State Liquor License Commission today to take the places of Progressives on liquor license boards in seven additional counties although the terms of those replaced cannot continue longer than Sept. 3, the date when the new liquor license law becomes operative. In 13 other counties in which appointments were announced the minority members of license boards are retained. In nearly all cases they are Republicans although it was announced at the office of the state commissioner that one or more might be retained on the list. It was not possible, however, to get the party affiliation in each instance. The Republicans named in place of Progressives follow: L. Floyd Routzman, vice William A. Bauer, Clark county; Ray Martin, vice U. O. Covens, Licking county; D. T. Howell, vice Perry Williams, Lorain county; Emory L. Nebergall, vice G. A. Demmon, Marion county; Lewis Dresbach, vice Carl Schwin, Pickaway county; Russel M. Wilson, vice George C. Canger, Summit county; Alton Greeg, vice G. A. Kammerly, Wyandot county.

The terms of all minority members of county license boards expired early this morning. None of the appointees can serve after September 3 unless a referendum shall be had on the new license law.

SINKS ENGLISH BOAT, THEN HIS OWN SHIP

London, August 12.—The British warship Ramsay has been sunk in the North Sea by the German ship Meteor, it was officially announced today. The Meteor as it was being chased by British vessels, was blown up by its commander. Lloyd's has received a report that the French ship Francois has been sunk and her crew landed safely.

U. S. WANTS DATA ON AMERICAN ARSENALS

Washington, Aug. 12.—Announcement that the war department had asked American manufacturers of war munitions for data as to their facilities for furnishing supplies, in the event of an emergency, led to some speculation here today, although officials explained that the action was in accordance with the usual practice both in normal times as well as in war. The announcement declared emphatically that no purchases of war supplies was contemplated at present.

The step, it is explained, was made necessary because of the fact that practically every private plant

"GERMANY MUST CUT WAY TO TURK CAPITAL"

Amsterdam, via London, Aug. 12.—Discussing the Balkan situation in the Tages Zeitung, Count Reventlow declares that Germany must cut her way through to Constantinople and make the new Triple Alliance a reality.

"The demand for direct communication between Hungary and Turkey," he writes, "has found expression more and more energetically during the past few months. Among the securities which the new Triple Alliance needs and must obtain, is permanent security of the political, economic and military link between Constantinople and Berlin and Vienna. The Alliance can develop full strength and high effect only when the Allied powers possess assured communication. In times of peace no less than now the Triple Alliance will constitute a strategic factor and the rapid, thorough building up of this factor is our most immediate task."

selves to hold a peace convention and the government created by that action will be accorded recognition whether or not the acquiescence of all the factions is obtained.

The sending of battleships to Vera Cruz and other movements that may follow are described as precautionary measures to afford assistance to foreigners but officials feel reassured that there will be no necessity of action.

Secretary Lansing declined to comment on General Carranza's letter of protest against the Pan-American peace plan. He said no reply had been made. The letter, however, has not disturbed officials for they are convinced that General Carranza does not control the individual opinion of the many generals and leaders which are reported to be under his command. The feeling is that when the Pan-American conference's appeal is read it will be evident that Carranza has been misinformed as to the purposes of the peace plan and there is a confident hope that some of his hitherto close supporters will give their adherence to an idea of peace.

Foreign Minister Aecuna cabled that the demonstrations in Vera Cruz had been merely manifestations of allegiance to Carranza. "The people protested," said Minister Aecuna, "when they heard of the conference being held in the United States in an endeavor to decide upon matters exclusively in the province of Mexico sovereignty but the people have not manifested any hostility toward citizens of any nationality."

A complete report on conditions in Vera Cruz was called for by Secretary Daniels today although no new anti-foreign demonstrations have been reported. Commander McNamee of the gunboat Sacramento may have sailed with his ship last night for New Orleans, carrying the Brazilian and Guatemalan ministers to Mexico. In his absence, Commander William P. Scott, of the gunboat Marietta, will make the report. The party on board the Sacramento which will reach New Orleans Sunday includes eight persons traveling with Mr. Cardoso, the Brazilian minister and the wife and daughter of the Guatemalan diplomat, Mr. Ortiz, who was ordered out of Mexico by General Carranza.

The battleships Louisiana and New Hampshire en route to southern waters probably will stop at Guantanamo for orders, it was said today, meeting there the battleship Connecticut from Haiti. "There have been no orders to the Atlantic fleet except those given the Louisiana, New Hampshire and Connecticut," Secretary Daniels said today.

"Ships now in navy yards have regular orders to be prepared for sailing but they have been given no new orders. We do not contemplate sending any more ships south at this time."

The Atlantic fleet, in accordance with routine plans will go to the southern drill grounds for target practice about August 23. Admiral Fletcher was directed today, however, to have a portion of the fleet in Boston harbor Aug. 24 at the request of Governor Walsh, of Massachusetts, who asked that a warship be placed at the disposal of the council of state governors there August 21-27.

General Funston reported today that he had sent a battalion of the ninth infantry to Brownsville, Texas. He made no request, however, for additional troops in response to Secretary Garrison's message of yesterday, saying all the mobile forces not now on the border would be sent to Texas if needed.

War department officials would not discuss reports that secret organizers in Texas were abducting Mexicans under "The plan of San Diego." Whether General Funston has communicated this re-when the freight plunged into it. The excursionists were hardly more than a half hour's ride from their homes when the collision occurred. Most of the passengers, weary from the trip, were asleep in their seats. Only a handful in the rear coach were apprised of the coming of the freight before the crash came.

Pandemonium reigned when the freight struck the rear coach without warning. Rain was falling in torrents and partly drowned the screams of the injured. It was intensely dark and the lights carried by the trainmen failed to penetrate the heavy rain torrents. The engine of the freight was giving off ear-splitting explosions of steam.

The following are the dead and injured:

THE DEAD

Logan Holler, farmer, living near Five Points, Pickaway county.

Margaret Sollars, daughter of James Sollars, of near Mount Sterling.

Thornton Neff, aged 25, of near Mount Sterling.

Thad Mitchell, aged 14, son of David Mitchell, of near Mount Sterling.

Carl Reichelsderfer, 16, Mt. Sterling.

Fred Gearhardt, Mt. Sterling.

SERIOUSLY INJURED

Oleo Sollars, sister of Margaret; injuries probably fatal.

George Grosplans and wife, Mt. Sterling.

Thad Miller, grocery clerk, Mt. Sterling.

Earl Johnson, aged 16, of Five Points.

Mrs. Thorne Neff, of near Mt. Sterling, probably fatally hurt.

Webster Junk, aged 14, Mt. Sterling, collar bone and wrist fractured and possible internal hurts.

Edward Lynch, aged 24, Mt. Sterling; fractured leg and crushed chest.

Prof. Harvey Finley, aged 30, of Williamsport, (Pennsylvania) college, broken right arm and internal hurts.

Gilbert Hill, aged 14, arm and leg broken.

Virgie Sollars, sister of Margaret, leg broken.

Ross Gilbert, aged 16, leg broken and internally hurt.

Grover Gearhardt, Mt. Sterling.

Mr. and Mrs. George Grossplans, Mt. Sterling.

Frank Miller, Mt. Sterling.

Gerald Moore, St. Sterling.

Clark Busic, Mt. Sterling.

Harold Johnson, Mt. Sterling.

Ross Hill, Mt. Sterling.

Thomas Finley, Mt. Sterling.

The bodies of two of the dead were terribly mangled. Thornton Neff was found lying on the pilot of the freight engine. His body was dismembered. Logan Holler was found under debris of the splintered coach a few feet away. The body of Miss Sollars was found lying near the side of the freight engine. She died just as trainmen and others reached her.

Thad Mitchell, 14-year-old boy, was picked out of the debris later, dead. The rear coach was broken into small bits of splintered wood. It was not, therefore, difficult to extricate the injured. Relief calls were sent to Mt. Sterling, Columbus and other points and ambulances were rushed to the scene from many directions. Meantime a special train had been sent from Columbus, arriving at the scene before ambulances.

A freight car of the train which was responsible for the accident, was converted quickly into an emergency hospital and first aid was given there. It was soon lined with cots.

The little railroad passenger station at Orient was converted into a morgue and there were carried three of the dead. Later they were taken to Mt. Sterling for burial. The fourth was first carried into a nearby house in Orient and later taken to Harrisburg.

The engineer of the freight train which had left Newark about midnight Wednesday, bound for Cincinnati, refused to explain the accident. The fireman, S. J. Davidson, of Newark, said that the freight train had proceeded west from Grove City ten minutes after the passenger had left. He believed the passenger to have gone through Orient without stopping. The action of the passenger in stopping, therefore, had been wholly unexpected, he said.

Investigation with the purpose of fixing the responsibility of the disastrous wreck at Orient today was started by the State Utilities commission. Three inspectors were sent to the scene and after their report is made to the commission it is expected that a hearing will be given.

Within a half hour after word of the wreck was received the inspectors were on their way to the scene to get first hand information. Their finding will be incorporated in a written report to the commission.

port was not disclosed. It was apparent, however, that he had decided to concentrate a considerable force in the Brownsville district where the trouble appears to center.

Galveston, Aug. 12.—"The statement that foreigners in Vera Cruz are in danger is false. The constitutional government guarantees life and property to individuals of whatever nationality."

The foregoing is the text of a cablegram signed by General Carranza and received here this morning by Juan T. Burns, his consular agent. Another cablegram from Jesus Aecuna, Carranzaist minister of foreign relations denies that there have been any anti-foreign demonstrations in Vera Cruz but admits that a subordinate official made a speech the other day in which the peace conference participated in by the United States and Latin American countries was sharply criticized. This speech was denounced by higher officials and was made without sanction of the tory along the border to be added to Mexico.

While the situation was expected to be partly relieved with the arrival in this section of the third battalion, ninth infantry, sent from Laredo yesterday, expressions of officials generally were that it would require more soldiers to suppress the movement.

The zone of the operations of the raiders was widened to a large extent in the last 24 hours, although few additional reports of the depredations reached here. The latest meeting of the raiders with the troops was reported from Katherine, 50 miles north of Brownsville, where a band of thirty or more Mexicans made a daring raid on the one store of the town. They were frustrated in the attempt by a dozen United States soldiers stationed in the store, who fired on the bandits, injuring two, it was thought. No reports came of further killing since those of Monday, when ten persons were shot and killed.

Confirmation was lacking early today of reports that soldiers in considerable numbers were crossing the border from Mexico to join the alleged revolutionary movement, although Governor Ferguson in his appeal to the president, declared that "any unusual occurrence now would cause a disastrous invasion of Texas from Mexico."

That a "reign of terror" existed on the border, was the declaration of the governor.

TWO MILE TRACK IS LOUISVILLE PLAN

Louisville, Aug. 12.—Completion of plans for constructing in Louisville a two mile motor speedway was announced last night by George L. Martin, of Louisville, after consummation of a series of transactions for acquisition of 300 acres of ground for the speedway site. Incorporation of the Louisville Automobile Speedway, with a capitalization of $250,000 and organization of the controlling company will be completed within the next thirty days, it is announced and work will be begun on the course within the thirty days following. It is proposed to give purses of similar proportions to those given in Chicago and Indianapolis. Associated with Mr. Martin financing the matter are several Louisville capitalists and motorists, Carl G. Fisher and J. F. McKee, of Cincinnati.

Wilson Back Home, Takes Up Problems

Washington, Aug. 12.—President Wilson, returning from Cornish, N. H., reached the White House shortly after 9:30 a. m. today. He will confer with Secretary Lansing on the Mexican, Haitian and other foreign situations.

It was announced at the White House that there would be no cabinet meeting tomorrow. The president has determined that pending matters in the various departments are not in shape for general discussion with his advisers as yet.

After his conference with Secretary Lansing, devoted chiefly to the Mexican situation and the work of the Pan-American conference, Mr. Wilson planned to see Secretary Garrison of the war department and Secretary Daniels of the navy to take up questions of national defense.

BRIDGEPORT FACES ANOTHER ARMS STRIKE

Bridgeport, Conn., Aug. 12.—The labor troubles in this city and nearby towns, which apparently had become more composed and gave promise of amicable adjustment yesterday, had been deferred by argument for 24 hours.

The reply of the Locomobile company of America to the demand of about 300 of its employees for a readjustment of hours and pay was expected today. Employees of the American and British company, and the Standard Manufacturing company have voted to present demands, the refusal of which, it was said, would mean a strike.

Jews Ask U. S. To Stop Shell Supply

Berlin, Aug. 12.—(By wireless to Sayville)—The following was given out for publication today by the Overseas News Agency:

"The Association of Jews in Germany has issued a dramatic appeal to America, drafted by Dr. Levi, a rabbi, for distribution in neutral countries. The appeal, based on the fact that American shells are thrown by Russians into Polish towns believed to harbor Germans, says:

"Europe stands in flames. Across the ocean America alone lives in peace. She hears not the thunder of cannon. A fruitful rain of gold is falling on a land enjoying golden peace.

"We cry out to America: Thousands of the most loyal and industrious citizens come from towns being destroyed by the shells which then are sent, instead of gifts of money once sent back to childhood homes from Liban to Lemberg, then sent from shells to supply the army of the Czar. Then give iron for gold, death for life. The children are murdering their parents. America, thou hast power. Thou art not fighting for existence. We implore thee to listen to this appeal!"

SAFETY FIRST CAR IN THE CITY; PUBLIC IS INVITED

"Meet every employee face to face and interest him in the safety first or accident preventative movement" is the slogan of officials of the Norfolk and Western Railway company.

In furtherance of this policy this company has a specially equipped car in charge of expert men along this line visiting every point along the company's various lines where men are employed subject to the dangers of railroad travel.

This car, under the direction of C. H. Blakemore, of Roanoke, chairman of the safety first committee, and in direct charge of J. L. Dunham, is located in the local yards of the N. & W. and will remain here a week with the officials interesting themselves in the safety first movement.

Commenced vigorously over eighteen months ago by the N. & W., the safety first movement has reduced the toll of accidents over fifty percent. By means of personal communication with the men, having them come to the safety first car and witness stereoscopic views and moving pictures of the dangers of careless work around railroads the company has succeeded admirably in its campaign to conserve the lives, limbs and bodies of their employees.

The car, which is the company's transient agent of the movement, is one of the most elaborately equipped in the country. A costly moving picture machine shows the pictures which are used to strikingly explain the dangers of carelessly making switches, coupling cars, riding indifferently on box cars, walking along the tracks and riding on the fenders of engines.

Negligence in the shops and lack of protection of the eyes is also shown. It is announced that the company furnishes free goggles to protect their employees from flying pieces of metal when working in the shops.

J. L. Dunham, in charge of the safety first car, is well posted on the movement and gives an entertaining and impressive lecture along with the stereoscopic views.

Much interest is being shown by local employees. Demonstrations are made every morning at nine o'clock, two o'clock and four o'clock in the afternoon and at seven-thirty in the evening and all employees of the company and the public in general are invited to attend the demonstrations.

J. K. Sheen is the electrician in charge of the moving picture machine.

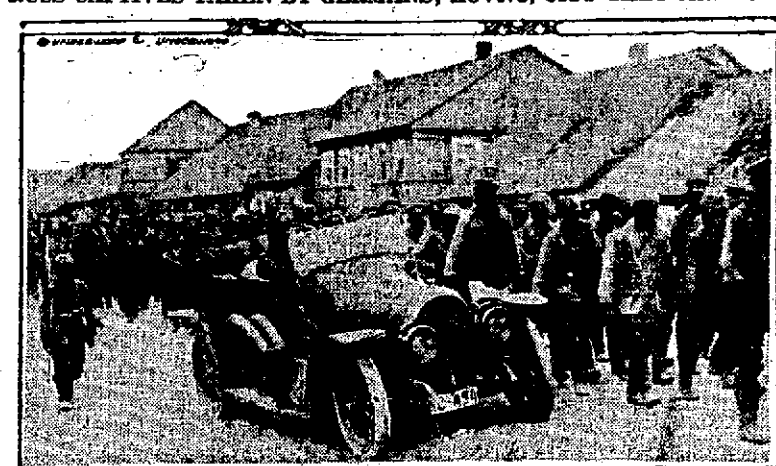

BRINGS PRESIDENT NEWS FROM EUROPE

Nelson Morris leaving White House after conference with Wilson.

Mr. Nelson Morris, American minister to Stockholm, Sweden, has just returned to the United States for the purpose of having an operation performed. It is rumored, however, that the time taken for the operation is an opportunity to bring to the president all important confidential information regarding the relations between the Scandinavian countries and the fighting powers. Immediately after his arrival last week he called at the White House.

RUSS CAPTIVES TAKEN BY GERMANS; KOVNO, CITY THEY MENACE

CITY ENGINEER GIVES VIEWS ON FLOOD WALL

City Engineer George S. Wilhelm believes the best results would be attained by building the proposed flood wall extension over the original route straight up Mill street to Offshore instead of around the southerly route via Wheeling street.

City Solicitor Stanley McCall and others agree with the engineer that a better wall can be constructed over the higher ground than by going down under the bank and into the low lying cornfields, and that the damage claims against the city would be offset by the costs saved in the construction. The original line would also give a wider area to the river. The cost of the straight wall is estimated at $60,000 while that of the Wheeling street route is $66,500. Only three buildings, including the Hammond grocery on Union street, would be left outside of the wall under the original route which has been favored from the start by Mr. Wilhelm. The wall over the Wheeling street route will average 23 ft. in height as against an average height of 13 ft. on the straight route. Mr. Wilhelm has provided for an opening in the cross wall at the intersection of Jackson, Offshore and Second streets. The wall at this point will be 14 ft. high. To climbing this cross wall, as petitioned for by Jackson street property owners and instead extend the wall proper further east along the Ridge back of the Dawson, Barton and Kelley homes would limit the flood protection of this section to a 55 ft. stage.

Maysville Chief Comes For A Youth Accused Of Crime

James Mackey, chief of police of Maysville, Ky., and T. S. Stewart, a C. & O. special agent, came to Portsmouth Thursday noon after Marion Ferguson, the South Portsmouth youth arrested by local police on a grand larceny charge Wednesday.

Ferguson is accused of having stolen a motor boat belonging to Marshall Cooper, a clerk in the C. & O. freight depot at Maysville last October. The boat was never recovered but the engine was found at Brent, Ky., where Ferguson is said to have disposed of it. He is also said to have stripped two other launches of their equipment. He was a badly wanted man, Maysville officers making repeated trips to this section in search of him.

Officer Theo. Branham caught sight of Ferguson in a North End saloon Wednesday afternoon just as he was leaving a side door. He turned his back as the officer approached, hoping, no doubt, that recovered but the engine was

NEW BOSTON

Quite a sensation was created on Ohio avenue Wednesday afternoon, in front of Mayor J. S. Davis' store, W. T. Harr's store, and Pool and Shaner's ice cream parlor, when the residents were treated to a dodging battle. The offensive party was John McCoy, a fighting drunk. McCoy started trouble when he said he could lick anybody in town. Bob Pool, Will Shaner and Lonnie Chinn formed the defensive side. McCoy hurled a rock at Chinn's head, but Chinn dodged. This excited Chinn's martial spirit and he heaved a rock at McCoy, who dodged. McCoy then went to Lawrence Fitch's butcher shop and pretended to make a purchase. While the butcher was waiting on him McCoy picked up a long butcher knife and left the shop. As he neared the ice cream parlor, Chinn and Shaner beat a hasty retreat to Davis' store. Pool, who only had a tennis ball as a weapon, stepped inside his place of business. McCoy crossed the street to Davis' store and the young men outside ran in and shut the door. McCoy then stepped at Harr's store. The young lady clerk retreated to a safe part of the store and McCoy proceeded up Ohio avenue to Gallia pike. Shaner telephoned for Marshal Davis, who arrested McCoy at Chinn's store. The knife was returned to Fitch. A charge of being drunk and disorderly was placed against McCoy.

Mrs. Sadie Smith is confined to her home, 65 Ohio avenue, with a slight illness.

Rev. Benjamin Porter, aged resident of the village, who has been confined to a wheel chair for several years, attended the Ohio Baptist Association meeting at the Pine Street Baptist church Wednesday. Rev. Porter is only able to be out several days a month.

Watson and John Neal, who have been running a merry-go-round on Gallia pike and Vine streets, took down their pleasure device Thursday.

Miss Berdila Briggs has returned to her home at Mt. Vernon, O., after a several weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Wiley McHenry, of the Gallia pike.

Carl Sutton, who had his right arm burned Tuesday while working at the Whitaker-Glossner steel plant, is getting along nicely.

Ray Dever is confined to his home on Munn's Run with a slight illness.

G. M. Warden, of the Gallia pike Underselling store, will leave in a few days on a business trip to Kentucky. He will look over property at Clydeside addition, near Ashland. He contemplates exchanging Scioto county property for a lot in the new addition.

The W. O. W. Circle will meet in semi-monthly session Saturday evening.

Lawrence Fitch, defeated Republican candidate for mayor, stated Thursday that a number of his friends had seen after him to run for mayor on an independent ticket. Fitch is undecided and is carefully considering the matter.

Marshal Will I. Davis was called to the McHenry grocery on Ohio avenue, Thursday noon, on complaint that a drunken man had taken possession of the rear yard. Davis found Oscar Barkley, who lives on the Ohio river bank, near the steel plant, and he was so drunk that the officer had difficulty in waking him up. Officer Martin Hall was summoned to help put some of Barkley's clothes on, as he had partially disrobed. He now reposes behind

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woe, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, O. Office Phone 84.

Dear Dolly.—Would you please publish a recipe explaining how to can corn.

WOULD-LIKE-TO-KNOW.

Cut corn from the cob and fill glass jars full. Pack the corn into the jars tight and press down with a potato masher until most of the milk contained in the corn has oozed out. Wipe the outside of the jars put on rubber and covers and seal loosely. Put into the rack the same as with string beans and boil about two hours. Take out, wipe and seal the jars tight, then return to the rack and steam two hours more. When removed from the can in the winter for use, water must be added and the corn cooked for a short time before adding milk and butter.

Dear Dolly Wise.—Which is more proper, a home or a church wedding?

LILLIE.

One is quite as proper as the other and your own circumstances and preference must decide between them.

Miss Dolly Wise.—How soon after a dinner party should I call on my hostess, and to whom should I give my card when making a formal call?

ELIZABETH.

A dinner call should be paid if possible within a week. The card should be handed to the maid who opens the door, unless your hostess herself should meet you as you enter. In this case you may lay it on the hall table as you pass it.

Dear Miss Wise.—Do you think I should be angry with a woman who did not comply with my request to send an extra invitation to a friend who was visiting me at the time my hostess invited me to a card party?

R. L. P.

Not at all. The woman who invited you most likely had a sufficient number of guests invited and would not have been able to accommodate an extra person comfortably.

Sweet Peach Pickles

White peaches are the best for pickling since they will keep their shape better than yellow peaches. Peel carefully, and weigh. Allow to each four pounds of fruit, two pounds of sugar, one cupful of vinegar and one cupful of water, and a tablespoonful each of mace, cloves and a half ounce of cinnamon. Tie the spices in muslin bags. After the spices have boiled in the vinegar for fifteen minutes, remove bags and put in the fruit. Simmer for fifteen minutes or until tender, then remove and pack carefully into jars; boil the syrup until thick and pour over the peaches.

True Secret of Keeping Youthful Looking

(The Beauty Seeker.)

"The real secret of keeping young-looking and beautiful," says a well-known hygienist, "is to keep the liver and bowels normally active. Without these qualities, poisonous waste products accumulate in the system, polluting the blood and lodging in various organs, tissues, joints. One becomes pale, obese, nervous, irritable, and dull-eyed, with aching and swollen face. But to get liver and bowels working as they ought, without producing any harmful effects, has been the problem for centuries. There is a prescription of numerous medicines, which may be had in convenient tablet form. Its value lies largely in an ingredient derived from the humble Malva plant, or its root, which has been called 'vegetable calomel' because of its effect on the bowels. Of course it is not to be confused with the real calomel of mercurial origin. These so-called 'tablets'—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal muscles, which is no small benefit. They will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Chief Cause of Pimples, Blotches, Sallow Skin

(Messenger of Health.)

Unightly eruptions, pimples, blotches, sallowness or muddy skin, usually are due to a sluggish liver, a constipated bowels, and a polluted blood stream as a consequence. How foolish in such cases to resort to outward applications, which may have some temporary effect, but which, if more people only knew it, there is a very simple remedy, to be found in any drug store, which is as effective as it is harmless and quick acting. It is an old formula, long recognized by the medical profession, which has been put in tablet form, and at such small cost no one need now be deprived of the wonderful benefits of "Santal tablets"—that's the name—and their use is not followed by weakness or exhaustion. On the contrary, these harmless vegetable tablets tend to impart tone and elasticity to the relaxed intestinal muscles, which is no small benefit. They will do—will prove a revelation to any constipated, liver-troubled person."

Great Demand for New Constipation Remedy

"They say that the advent of the 'Santal tablet' as a vegetable substitute for calomel has resulted in an extraordinary demand for this remarkable product. It seems to have made a hit particularly with those afflicted with chronic constipation, who were quick to recognize the advantages over calomel and the usual laxatives. Santal tablets, made from their efficacy, doubtless owe their success largely to a tendency to aid in bringing about natural functioning—instead of forcing the 'catarrhal habit.' Also, instead of injuring the membranous lining of the organs involved, they exert a healing influence. Instead of weakening, they add tone to the intestinal wall. And they work so easily and gently, they are of course preferred on this account to the violently acting purgatives. Their inoffensiveness is another reason for the popularity of Santal tablets. One need procure only a day's worth, and take one tablet upon retiring, to be convinced that the ideal remedy for constipation, sallow liver, and their many evil consequences, has finally been found. Alleges Liquor Furnished By Saloon Man To Various Men During Primary Election

An affidavit was filed against Bird Garthee, a saloonkeeper, by Police Chief W. T. McCarty Thursday morning jointly charging him, his bartender, William Redden and his porter, O. P. Stewart with furnishing liquor to various persons on primary election day.

The three men are accused of furnishing liquor to Charles Welch, "Cotton" Taylor, Louis Arnold, Charles Kaylor, James Dobbins and Ex-Policeman "Cotton" Gansley. Mr. Garthee as soon as he learned the nature of the charges arranged to provide bond if necessary, Grocer Levi C. Cook agreeing to go his security. Chief McCarty claims to have evidence that four kegs of beer were taken out of a room in the Garthee building at No. 921 Chillicothe street that adjoins his bar room and were removed two at a time. These were taken to Stewart's stable in a nearby alley, he claims.

The accused deny that there was any selling done, declaring that they were within their rights having beer in a stable and permitting friends to come and help themselves.

The men were released on $100 bond each to appear for trial tomorrow morning, Mr. Cook going on their bond.

A written request from Smith for his release a few days ago met with the prompt reply that his offense was too serious to justify any such action. He was committed to the workhouse on May 18th.

Ironton Furnaces To Resume Soon

Ironton, O., Aug. 12.—Col. Marting, of the Marting Iron and Steel plant, stated this morning to the Register that the Lawrence plant of the company will be placed in operation about the last of September. This will be the last of the Marting furnaces to go into operation, as the Etna plant is now running and the Ironton plant will go in blast in the near future.

Work has also been begun on the Union Iron and Steel furnace and things look bright for the furnace man in this city. The iron business all over the country is picking up and every month plants are blown that in some cases have been idle for months.—Ironton Register.

FRAUD CHARGE IS MADE IN THE IRONTON PRIMARY; PROBE IS TO BE MADE

According to the Morning Iron-tonian, there is going to be a probe of the recent primary in that city by a grand jury in Judge Corn's court, allegations being made by T. J. Kennedy, a defeated candidate for the Republican nomination for mayor, that his opponents resorted to unlawful methods to corrupt the votes of those subject to influence.

The Iron-tonian's statement says: "From inside sources comes the information that the conduct of the recent primaries on the part of the Republicans, especially the Hannan faction, is to be investigated by the coming grand jury."

"A meeting was held Monday afternoon at T. J. Kennedy's office, which was attended by a number of his friends and supporters. At the meeting statements relating to 'leg' parties both before and election day, and 'loaning' of money, and especially the 'leg' parties which lined the river bank along the West Ironton bank, according to statements freely made, were shaped up to be presented to Judge Corn, who will be asked to present the facts to the coming grand jury.

"On election day a party of two 'kops' was held in the Fourth ward, back of the life works, and it is said this party was liberally attended. Officer Taylor flushed the party, but they got in the clear before any of them could be recognized or apprehended. It is very likely that there will be some rich developments in this direction before long."

Mr. Pride making trousers and coats upstairs in his establishment finally got "wise" and had the sign removed.

TAKE SALTS FOR THE KIDNEYS IF YOUR BACK HURTS

We Should Drink Lots of Water and Eat Less Meat, Says
Noted Authority on Kidney Disorders

Recommends a Spoonful of Jad Salts In Glass of Water Before Breakfast to Stimulate Kidneys and Eliminate the Uric Acid

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked, get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy, the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Eat less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

HOME RUNS SEND FRANKFORT TEAM TO LAND OF DEFEAT

Locals Score 11 Runs, Hit The Spalding Hard; Test Twirls A Winner

(BY F. W. SHERIDAN)

IVEN splendid support in the field and at the bat, Hubert Test, student hurler and leading pitcher of the Ohio State League, had no trouble whatever, Wednesday, in holding a check rein on the Old Taylors of Frankfort, Ky., who amassed the magnificent total of one counter, while the locals shoved over a whole flock of scores, 11 in all, or nine more than was necessary to give them the decision.

Such a slug-fest has not been seen at beautiful Millbrook park for many a day, and it is not at all likely that the clubbing will be repeated very often, for it is rare indeed when nine warriors bold pull off such an assault on the twisters of opposing pitchers. The locals secured 18 solid blows, good for 25 bases; two of the mighty wallopers being home run drives over the garden wall—hits, too, that would have been homers on any lot in the country. Dillhoefer started the lengthy swatting with one on the sacks, and at his very next turn at bat Ralph Sherman duplicated the swat, incidentally picking out a time when two of his teammates were on the quisions awaiting transportation. One of the swats was made off Mr. Edward Monroe, the huge and mighty blonde, who was driven to the tail and nacent before the third inn was completed, getting credit for losing two games in successive days.

Then Mr. Potter, a forked armed hurler, look the giant's place and before he could get the range, Sherman had connected for a four ply shot and the stuff was then off for sure. However, it was not at all necessary for the Spencer tribe to hit so viciously, and with so much culpability. Test, outside of the first frame when the visitors secured their only hit, was well nigh invincible. At the get-away, the visitors jumped into the high school boy for a couple of blows, one being a double. These two hits were good for the only run the visitors accumulated. After the first stanza Test allowed but three hits, one of which was a sacrifice fly from the platter and depending upon his support which never failed him, for the home boys fielded without the ramblance of an error, their work being classy and clean. Bush led in high class work, because he had the most to do. He covered as much ground as a Soto bottom corn field, attending every one of his seven chances with the gracefulness of a past master. Incidentally, Josephus started the fun in the third inning, when as leader off he laid down a bust that seemed to put Monroe a mile up in the air. The big fellow had been showing a lot of stuff, but after that he lost his effectiveness and in order to get the game completed it was necessary for Manager Jones to use the look and let the blonde for Potter, who was but little if any improvement. This is said in all kindness, for after the game Manager Jones stated that he never saw such free hitting as indulged in by the locals and he questioned if any pitcher in the country could have beaten them yesterday. Dillhoefer, who was the only man on the local roster who failed to get a hit, Tuesday, made up for his oversight yesterday. The visiting workers pinched four hits, good for eight sacks, every hit being of the 18-karat variety. His first drive was a liner to right. The next time he potted the ball over the wall. His third effort was a liner to left, and on his fourth attempt he drove a double to right. Quite versatile is Dillhoefer. Dills and Caton secured three satellites the latter ending the game with a perfect batting average. Sherman and Johnson cut in with two each and might have made more had the occasion demanded it. The small crowd saw some of the freest hitting ever staged at Millbrook. Not a hit but had the proper ring, and strange to relate but two of the hits were wasted. That's some record, too. The locals seem to have struck their stride at the bat and are now due for an upward climb. They will have their work out for them on Thursday when they slack tip against Bacon, who is one of the classiest hurlers in the league. He has been going great guns of late, but may have his troubles in curbing the locals. The third frame was where the visitors were baptized under an avalanche of hits. Bush beat out a punt and was put down to second on Test's perfect sacrifice. Dillhoefer then stepped to

William C. Marshall.

William C. Marshall, the newest fight promoter in the game, is spending about $40,000 to all to bring Packey McFarland and Mike Gibbons together at New York, September 11. He figures that 15,000 seats will go at $1 each, 15,000 more at $2 each, and the balance, which will go at from $3 to $5 each, will be clear velvet for him.

The mound and brought every spectator to his feet with a clean and mighty drive over the left field fence. Dills picked one for a single, and likewise Sherman. Dillo, Johnson, and not to be out done, Caton cut in with a healthy hit. Dillhoefer tied to first, but Manager Spencer drove in two scores with his line drive to left. Knowing that enough was enough, Bush lofted to Manager Jones in middle.

Test started the fourth with a strike out, failing to connect with Potter's offerings, who, by the way, had relieved Monroe after two were out in the third. Dillhoefer greeted Potter with a single and Dills dropped one in right. Then Sherman took a death grip on his war club and seeing one coming to him that looked like his liking connected. The ball sailed far over the left field fence and Sherman trotted around the sacks like a prize winning Pechon at a county fair.

In the fifth after two were out Test surprised the multitude by driving a clipping, conservative and conspicuous single to center. Dillhoefer kept up his good work with a double to right. Bush runners registered on Dills' ringing blow to right. In the ninth after two were out three singles by Caton, Johnson, and McHenry counted for the last run. The visitors secured their only run in the opening inning. Kimble went out to Bush to Spencer and Manager Jones drove a single to Spencer. With two and three on the batter, Kaiser, hit home runs to middle, Jones registering. Right then and there Test settled like a taxpayer and got Williams on a fly to right and forced Angemier to roll to Bush. After that inning Test allowed but three more hits and incidentally won his fourteenth game out of his last fifteen starts, and has fair prospects of keeping up that wonderful clip. Come out, fans and see those locals pull off more great work. They are going fine and going up—watch their smoke from now on. The scores:

Notes Of The Game

The Frankfort team will complete its stay here Thursday afternoon. The Charleston Senators will be the attraction at Millbrook on Friday, Saturday and Sunday, playing two games on the Sabbath day. The Senators are now leading the league but now that they are competing for the road, they will probably drop gradually back with the bunch. The Mayville team has given them two beatings in three games and Manager "Biddy" Beers is quite alarmed over the outlook. The locals will try hard to take four in a row from the Senators, in which event the leaders will not be so any more when they leave these shores.

Test twirled a highly intelligent and effective game yesterday. He, of course, was given a big load to work on, and at no time was he in danger. He kept putting the ball across, having splendid control and a world of stuff. He would shoot in a fast one, then place a hook on display, making him up at all times and having the visitors on his hip at all stages. This victory made four consecutive wins out of the last fifteen games, a record of which the high school hurler can feel eminently proud. It probably was never before equaled in any league.

The locals hit hard and timely yesterday, but two of the 18 hits being wasted. The game was completely off when Dillhoefer went on over the left field fence with Bush on second in the third inning the locals made seven hits; every one as clean as a whistle. Dillhoefer led with four bingles good for 8 sacks. "Pickles" is simply making up for lost time and now that he has struck his stride, watch out for him. Sherman secured a circuit drive, while Dills and Caton pitched off three satellites.

McHenry, the Blue Creek product, is playing a nifty game in left, but is not getting his hits with any degree of regularity. Yesterday when practically all the locals were hitting the Adams county citizen failed to connect safely until his fifth trip to the plate when he drove a clipping single past third. Mack is a philosopher, however. He states after the game that when eight men on a team are hitting like that, there was really no good use for him cutting in. He will wait until hits are needed and then drive the runners across.

Joe Bush is certainly playing a great game at second base. The nimble chap covers a wide range of territory and knows exactly what to do and where to play. He is one of the most graceful fielders, doing his work so artistically that many of the fans fail to appreciate his good work. He is one of the most intelligent players on the team and well liked all over the circuit. He started yesterday's rally in the third inning when he dumped a bunt along the third base line, easily beating the ball. That one play stretched things, his bunting in Mr. Monroe's home, and within a few minutes the big pitcher was clubbed into oblivion.

Manager Jones, of the visiting team, is playing center field under protest. He has been sick for the past few days, and had he consulted his own feelings he would have remained on the bench. His loyalty to his team, however, overcame his own feelings and he was out there in the open, facing the heat and all times. He led the team at the bat, securing two nice singles. Manager Jones is one of the most sentimentally players in the game, well liked by everybody and idolized by his own men. He is a former National league twister, being with the New York Giants when Christy Mathewson was in his prime. Two seasons ago, Jones pitched a hit, no-run game for Indianapolis. He is still a crafty box artist, having one of the best slow balls ever placed on exhibition.

Mine, Frankfort's regular third sacker, is out of the game, being called as a witness in a big murder trial in Virginia. Mine is the boss hitter of the Old Taylors, and his absence is keenly felt by the team. He is hitting at a .500 clip, all pitchers looking alike to him. It is not known when he will return to the team.

Several of the visiting players did some tall crabbing during the closing innings of play. Umpire Kane, however, laughed at their antics and kept the game moving along. Mr. Kane doubtless knew that it is an easy thing to pull an alibi. Mr. Kaiser on first acted real ugly, don't you know, and doubtless felt like slapping some one on the wrist. He puffed and sputtered and dug his spikes in the dirt, making the stands quake with fear. He would scowl and then frown and then spit. If he had been upbraided it is likely the fans would have insisted that Johnny Henson, the mascot go out and give him a trimming. A few more exhibitions like that, Mr. Kaiser, and you'll be known as "Alibi Ike."

The attendance is still palpably small, despite the fact the locals are playing a great game and hitting like fiends. Fans, come out and help the boys along. They need your encouragement and the club owners need your money. The game of late have been played in less than one hour and thirty minutes, fans being home by 5 o'clock. Umpire Kane is running the games fast, allowing no stalling, and that helps a whole lot.

Groundkeeper Henry Kroger has the diamond in elegant shape. The field was never in better shape. Everything is exactly right, except the coaches' box on the left of the diamond.

Ironton Drops Out, Club May Be Put On Road For Season

Columbus, O., Aug. 12.—The Ironton Frankfort series scheduled for Friday will be played at Frankfort. It is probable that all games scheduled to be played at Ironton will be transferred to the city with which the Ironton club is scheduled to play, thereby giving each city club in the league more games at home.

The above telegram from President Carr is self explanatory. For some time it has been known that Ironton would drop from the league and the news that such a step has been taken did not create the least bit of surprise. The Ironton fans have never supported a team as they should, probably because the aggregations representing the city have been losers. This year the team was loaded up with old heads, who have seen their best days on a ball field and who their course has been run. They are our holding on by the gills and play without the least ambition. Of course there are some youngsters on the Ironton team. Deloelle and Meyers, pitchers, can be catalogued as such. But Gilbert, Taylor, Oltom, Stadler, Moore, et al, have seen the procession pass them by.

However, let that pass as has the Ironton team. The fans up there have probably done the best they could; they have dug deep and often, but cannot be expected to go on forever. Had the team some youngsters who could go up, the club owners might take a chance and complete the season. However, the league will take over the club and either make it a road team or award the franchise to Richmond, Ky., a town about the size of Portsmouth. It's good-bye Ironton. One by one the dead ones drop out, and a fresh surge is made in the baseball cemetery. Chilled the dug here's this year and now comes Ironton, whose resurrection last even longer than was expected. This time, however, she is dead to stay dead and it's now time for flowers.

President Tener Is Hopeful For Future

Cincinnati, Aug. 12.—John K. Tener, president of the National League, who spent Wednesday in Cincinnati on his saving around the circuit, expresses himself as fully convinced that the game has come back to its own again, war times and Federal leagues notwithstanding. "If I am not mistaken," said Tener, "Cincinnati is the only town where the attendance has not returned to normal size, and there are, of course, good reasons; the team sticking at the bottom, and the weather. In every other city, I was astonished at the turnouts that thronged the parks—as, for instance, Chicago, where every seat was sold Sunday. Apparently, business and financial conditions are coming back to proper standards, and the fans are being drawn out again by the wonderful race which six clubs of the National league and four clubs of the American league are putting up. The crowds are not only back to normal size again, but are showing the enthusiasm that prevailed two years ago. The race—particularly in the National—

OSTEOPATHY at HOME

PRACTICAL LESSONS WHICH WILL BENEFIT HEALTH - HOME

COLD IN THE HEAD AND HOW TO RELIEVE IT.

TO STOP A COLD IN THE HEAD Gives Instant Relief, Enabling One to Breathe Clearly.

THE most prevalent affliction in this part of the world is what is commonly spoken of as "a cold." The vast majority of so-called colds are what is known as "colds in the head." As a matter of fact, there is no such thing as a cold. A cold in the head is nothing more or less than a disturbance of the secretory function of the mucous membrane lining the nose and the eyes and other parts of the face. This disturbance may be due to several causes, the most common being direct invasion from contact with people suffering from a similar bacterial disease. The next most frequent cause is the inhalation of germs or the breathing in of dust which is either loaded with bacteria or which, in itself, is a sufficient mechanical irritant to injure the delicate membrane. Once irritated by sharp edged particles of dirt the raw mucous surface becomes immediately a prey to bacteria which they could successfully resist if they were uninjured.

There are other frequent and important causes of colds in the head which the general reader might never realize. Over-eating, under-exercise, indigestion, constipation or any other chronic abnormal condition of the system, as a whole, may so load down the body with poisonous substances that the usual organs of elimination are utterly unable to get rid of them fast enough, so the poor little mucous membrane of the nose has to get busy and do its share. Another very important cause, and a very frequent one, which is not only unappreciated by the laity, but is often overlooked completely by the physician if he be of the older school, is that of abnormal action of the nerves controlling the nutrition of the mucous membrane and its secretion. Every single part of the body, no matter how small, is controlled entirely in its every action and in its health, strength and nutrition by its nerves. It is just as true of the lining of the nose as it is of the heart or the stomach. The osteopaths have found that many apparent colds in the head are nothing but disturbed actions of the mucous membrane, resultant from a pressure, interference or irritation to its nerves or to nerve centres reflexly connected with it. Osteopathic adjustment for the removal of this pressure results in a cessation of the symptoms, or, in the words of the patient, the cure of the cold. Even in those cases where there is no demonstrable pressure, and even where a bacterial invasion may be evident, the osteopaths have found that mechanical adjustment for the establishment of the greatest possible efficiency of the nerve and blood supply to the part affected always results in some degree of relief and sometimes in a brilliant cure. Possibly the most important point to bear in mind is that a cold may develop into almost any serious disease, or, in other words, that a very large number of serious diseases are ushered in by symptoms exactly like those of an ordinary cold in the head. Exact diagnosis, therefore, in the case of a cold in the head in its first stages is absolutely impossible. All the more reason, consequently, why such a condition should never be neglected and why immediate steps should be taken at the appearance of the first symptoms to do everything possible to check its progress. There is no more startling way in which to convince a person who is sceptical of the possibilities of osteopathy than in take it as he is, when she has a sharp, fresh cold in the head, and administer to her the treatment shown in the illustration presented in this department to-day. Any patient can do this just as well at home as an osteopathic physician can after she has learned the knack and experimented so that she can regulate the pressure according to the needs of the patient. The writer must not be misunderstood as saying that all colds can be cured at home without the aid of the osteopathic physician. Far from it. He merely means that the procedure illustrated here will always give more or less temporary relief and in the first stages, if there is no serious bacterial invasion and if there is no displacement of bones in the neck causing pressure interference on nerves coming to the nose, it will often completely cure what are known as simple colds. City Dark When Gas Flickers; Cars Are Also Forced To Stop

Portsmouth was wrapped in darkness about twenty-five minutes early Wednesday evening, due to trouble at the gas reducing station on Gallia street. The gas company is making repairs to its line at Sciotoville, during which time it is necessary to throw in a temporary plug. While the watchman was away for a few minutes, some one tampered with the temporary gauge, making it show an untrue reading. This caused the gas supply to run low and the lights about the city in some places to go out.

The lack of gas also caused trouble at the power house, where gas is burned under the boilers. Before coal could be started burning under the boilers, the arc lights had been out a half hour and the street cars had been stopped for twenty-five minutes. The incandescent lights did not go entirely out, but were very low.

Moving picture houses were inconvenienced, the shows being halted temporarily.

The trouble was remedied in half an hour.

HEAVY RAINFALL MAY CAUSE SCIOTO 'RUNOUT'

Warnings that an unusually heavy rain fall in Central Ohio and along the Scioto river will cause a run out here at Portsmouth were sent out by U. S. Forecaster Deveraux, of Cincinnati, Thursday.

The rainfall at Columbus was 2.78 inches and at points above Columbus it averaged less than a half inch. At Circleville it was .50 and at Waverly 1.44, while here it was less than a half inch, showing the rain to be in sections. The big Columbus rise would reach Portsmouth Saturday evening or Sunday morning.

Henry Ruel said it was impossible to foretell what this rise would do here but he expected to put his men to work immediately watching the river and guarding the newly completed temporary bridge at the Point and advised people having business in the city or West Side to be on the alert and prepared for any emergency. The main thing to be feared is a run of driftwood.

New Tank Put In

Owing to an increase in business, the Red Crown Gasoline station, located on Gallia near the Great Western Tea and Grocery company, is getting an additional five hundred gallon tank. This will increase the storage capacity of the station to one thousand gallons.

City officials have arranged with complainants to notify them when the blasting done by Contractor Frank Seymour in the Cecil S. Miller addition becomes so intense as to jar their properties and he will then be called upon to cease the practice or injunction proceedings will be instituted against him. The blasting is being done in removing dirt to make the fill for the Lawson Run viaduct, or overhead crossing, and has been the subject of much complaint from Hill-top citizens.

FIGHT ENGLISH SPARROWS WITH ROMAN CANDLES

Shooting sparrows with roman candles is the latest pastime of the East End residents. It is estimated that hundreds of sparrows roost in the large shade trees surrounding the home of Geo. Freund, druggist, Gallia and Officers-streets. By shooting roman candles into the trees many of the sparrows are forced to leave. Storms striking the trees have killed several hundred birds within the past week.

Columbia Tonight

Robert W. Service's famous poetic masterpiece, "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," has been made into a five-part motion picture by the Popular Plays and Players Company, with Edmund Breese, the powerful dramatic actor, in the leading role. "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" tells in its own red-blooded, big-man way of the loss of Jim's wife by Dangerous Dan McGrew; of his months of struggle across the "flat-landed" trail and his final meeting with Dan McGrew, the man who stole his wife and he killed.

Robert W. Service's poems have long been recognized as the most potent of American poetic fiction and include among others "The Spell of the Yukon," "The Heart of a Sourdough," "The Parson's Son," "The Call of the Wild," etc. "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" is in five parts and two hundred scenes. Edmund Breese and his supporting company sojourned to the Northwestern Canadian woods during the heavy snow season, where all the big outdoor scenes were taken, giving you some of the most beautiful snow and ice pictures ever filmed.

This is one of the big picture productions of the entire year and you can't afford to miss it at the Columbia this evening.

Tomorrow is Paramount Day, and Miss Hazel Dawn, that beautiful young woman from "The Pink Lady" is featured in a five act production by the Famous Players entitled "Clarissa," and is said to be a beautiful and highly interesting picture.

Temple Theatre

We have tonight at the Temple theatre the story of a perilous adventure with a happy ending entitled "His Mother's Portrait." The third is an intensely moving story of a young wife's heroism, entitled "One Woman's Way," when love is stronger than ever before. The fourth is a comedy entitled "Hungry Hank Wins a Hundred."

Charlie Chaplin At the Arcana Theatre Tonight

The biggest program ever offered in the city of Portsmouth by any theatre at the small price of five cents will be produced at the Arcana theatre. One reel featuring Charlie Chaplin in his latest success and craze entitled "The

ACID STOMACHS ARE DANGEROUS

"Acid" stomachs are dangerous because acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach, thus hindering and preventing the proper action of the stomach, and leading to probably nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble from which people suffer. Ordinary medicines and medicinal treatments are useless in such cases, for they leave the source of the trouble, the acid in the stomach, as dangerous as ever. The acid must be neutralized, and its formation prevented, and the best thing for this purpose is a teaspoonful of bisaturated magnesia, a simple antacid, taken in a little warm or cold water after eating, which not only neutralizes the acid, but also prevents the fermentation from which acid is developed. Foods which ordinarily cause distress may be eaten with impunity if the meal is followed with a little bisaturated magnesia, which can be obtained from the Fisher & Strick Pharmacy, and from any druggist and should always be kept handy.

Bisaturated Magnesia, No. 25 E. 25th St., N. Y. C.

you will be sure to enjoy it.

Don't forget that Henry B. Walthall, whose wonderful acting in the world's greatest picture, "The Birth of a Nation" will be the star at the Lyric on Saturday in one of the greatest three part features ever made. The title of it is "Temper," a big, powerful story, and the production is a wonder. Ruth Stonehouse plays the opposite lead.

At the Exhibit

The big favorite, William S. Hart, is being starred in a powerful drama "The Ruse" taking the feature role on the program at the Exhibit tonight. Mr. Hart is becoming a big favorite with local moving picture followers as his splendid physique and clever acting is winning him many friends. In addition to this big dramatic feature which is full of tense moments there is an excellent comedy entitled "The Ten Cent Adventure." The Majestic Kids are being featured in this comedy.

Edwin Thanhauser on Friday's program will present a dramatic masterpiece "Mercy on Cruches." "Applied Romance" is a Beauty picture that is also to be found on the program. Nova Gerberg and Webster Campbell are taking the leading roles in this picture. In addition to the regular program Manager Law is offering Renfax musical motion pictures.

Strand Theatre

The first part of the big double feature program will be a reproduction of the great Buffalo Bill's wild west show. The second feature is a masterpiece of dramatic interest. "The Silent Command" features Robert Leonard and Ella Hall and comes in four reels.

Tomorrow's feature will be everybody's favorite, J. Warren Kerrigan, assisted by Vera Sison in "The Oyster Dredger," a two reel Victor masterpiece.

Here From Chillicothe

Dr. Wiedeman, of the B. & O. S. W. relief department, was here from Chillicothe on official business Wednesday.

Just a Little Comparison!

Suppose you are a teamster and in order to facilitate the hauling of goods you pitch in and help make a good road for a mile, so that you can serve customers with your team to their advantage and make a fair profit yourself out of your investment.

Suppose, then, that after the road is finished, a dozen or so other teamsters notice what a fine road you have made, and that you are hauling a good deal of stuff, so they hurry around and get their teams together and they all start in on the road that you have helped make and try by every artifice to get the hauling away from you and to keep you from paying expenses.

They don't propose to help pay for the road, nor to haul any cheaper or better than you, but you have helped make a good road and they take advantage of this to their benefit and your hurt.

Would it be square? Would you stand idly by and not register a protest?

What about the Jitney, and the streets you have made, Mr. Taxpayer, and do you recall that the street railway company has been COMPELLED to pay one-third of the cost of paving every street where the cars run?

Shouldn't the Jitney pay something for the use of the streets YOU have made passable with expensive paving?

Should not the Jitney, purporting to give the same service as the street cars, be regulated by the city authorities as the street cars are?

If a peddler comes to town our merchants rightfully argue that he is an interloper and does not stand his just proportion of the city expense, and that he makes unjust competition, so a heavy license tax is required of the peddler. Is it any more just to protect the merchant than the public utility that was brought here to serve the whole people?

Did you ever stop to think how valuable an asset you have, Mr. Citizen, in the street railway lines in your city?

They did not happen by chance. Since they were built property values have increased at a wonderful rate wherever the lines have penetrated. It took a fortune to build the lines and it takes a fortune to operate them.

Are you content to sit placidly and see the public utility which you admit has done much for the growth of the city, suffer at the hands of a few speculators?

The street car line pays you a large per cent of your annual tax budget.

It pays a large per cent of the cost of paving.

It pays a large proportion of the cost of keeping up the paved street.

What do the Jitneys pay in improvements and taxes and in the increase of property values?

Nothing. The old car that is running now could not be taxed at more than a couple of hundred dollars. They are soon worn out.

Besides, even if you talked about taxing them, how would you tax the bunch from outside who drop in for the fat hours and rake in nickles.

The street railway is a permanent public necessity regulated and controlled.

The Jitney is a temporary, uncontrolled affair.

The second inning proved a big one for the Braves who won their second victory, defeating the Bear Cats 8 to 3. Lewis allowed three hits. Gower was found for seven hits, five of them coming in the second. The game was called in the seventh on account of a hard rain. R. Haag led the Braves with two out of three, while Gower got two of the three hits Lewis yielded. The fielding feature was the pegging to second of the two catchers, Wilson and Haag. Senators Out of Race

When the White Sox defeated the Senators by the score of 19 to 18, it put the Senators out of the race for the pennant. The game was characterized by heavy hitting, the Sox getting twenty-one hits off Phillips, they having one big inning, the fourth, when seven straight batters scored. Baggs was also hit hard, poor support giving the Senators several scores. In the ninth the Senators rallied, but fell short one run. The score by innings:

Pirates Get Pennant

The Pirates clinched the pennant when they defeated their nearest rivals, the Tiger Juniors, in a very interesting game 5 to 4. Weber and Chabot were engaged in a close pitchers' battle. Weber kept his hits scattered and would have won easily had he not have walked men in the closing innings. Chabot allowed two hits in the first, good for two runs, then did not allow another one until the seventh. A double by Wallace who led off for the Pirates in the ninth and a single by Greene, gave them the game. Weber, Anderson and Sealey each

IF BACK HURTS BEGIN ON SALTS

Flush the Kidneys at once when Back-ache or Bladder bothers—Meat forms uric acid.

No man or woman who eats meat regularly can make a mistake by flushing the kidneys occasionally, says a well-known authority. Meat forms uric acid which clogs the kidney pores so they sluggishly filter or strain only part of the waste and poisons from the blood, then you get sick. Nearly all rheumatism, headache, liver trouble, nervousness, constipation, dizziness, sleeplessness, bladder disorders come from sluggish kidneys.

The moment you feel a dull ache in the kidneys or your back hurts, or if the urine is cloudy, offensive, full of sediment, irregular of passage or attended by a sensation of stinging, get about four ounces of Ely's Salts from any reliable pharmacy and take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act like a well-oiled machine. Ely's Salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia and has been used for generations to flush clogged kidneys and stimulate them to activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine so it no longer causes irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Ely's Salts is inexpensive and cannot injure; makes a delicious effervescent lithia-water drink which all regular meat eaters should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and the blood pure, thereby avoiding serious kidney complications.

BOOST KORN KARNIVAL AT THE PIKETON FAIR; MUSIC TO BE A FEATURE

Portsmouth's Korn Karnival was given a formal introduction to the Piketon fair this afternoon. Albert Zoellner, Chas. Daehler, E. W. (Dick) Richards, Arthur Bode, Samuel Horehow, Sam Wise motored to the fair Thursday afternoon as a delegation to invite all Pike county to Portsmouth during the Korn Karnival.

An abundance of advertising literature was taken along. Members of the party planned to distribute the advertising posters all along the route and more than profusely advertise it at the Piketon fair.

Plans are going merrily along for the big karnival to be held in October. Fitzhugh Lee is working throughout the county securing advertisements and extending the farmers a personal invitation to attend.

Announcement was made that several musical organizations including the River City band will be engaged to furnish concerts throughout the karnival. Bands will be placed in both sections of the business district, rendering concerts both afternoon and evening. Plans are being perfected to bring a line of high class amusements to this city and give the karnival visitors good entertainment.

"Mourner" Figures Out A Gims' Deal

One of the most active of the McCormick leaders in the recent primary fight said Thursday, in commenting on the result, that he figured the smallness of the Gims vote on the hypothesis that there was an eleven hour deal between Gims and the Kaps forces by which Gims threw all of his strength that he could reach in the third ward to Kaps. "We all know that Gims has a strong following in the third ward where he has lived for years and we know that he could get more than he did if he were in Europe when the votes were counted. On the other hand Kaps got a vote there that was a surprise. I think you will find that Gims reached all the men he could the day and night before election and did missionary work for Kaps."

Further on this McCormick leader figured Gims out as the next safety director in case Kaps was elected mayor.

The above speculation is given for what it is worth.

Ohio National Guard May Be Called

Columbus, Aug. 12—The officers of the Ohio National Guard have generally felt from the beginning that troubles in Mexico, affecting as they have all along the interests of American citizens, would ultimately bring the United States into action with its military and naval forces, and the operations now of so-called bandits of Mexicans on United States soil, lend to the conclusion that they are not really the work of bandits at all, but detachments of regular forces of Mexican leaders who wish in this way to involve the United States.

No communications had been received today from the government in regard to the matter, at either of the offices of the governor or the adjutant general. Governor Willis is out of the city filling speaking engagements; his private secretary, Mr. Tipton, is on his vacation, and Adjutant Hough is at the state encampment at Yellow Springs. Executive Clerk Edwards, of the governor's office, said that nothing concerning the possible use of the Ohio troops in the Mexican trouble had been received from Washington, and Colonel E. S. Bryant, the assistant adjutant general, who in the absence of the adjutant general is in charge of the military department, said there was nothing new in the matter. "Many of the officers of the guard have felt all along," said Colonel Bryant, "that ultimately the guard would be brought into this matter. The new developments have not changed the situation, so far as I know."

A UNIVERSAL FOOD Following Nature's Footsteps

"I have a boy, two years old, weighing forty pounds and in perfect health who has been raised on Grape-Nuts and milk."

"This is an ideal food and evidently furnishes the elements necessary for a baby as well as for adults. We have used Grape-Nuts in large quantities and greatly to our advantage."

One advantage about Grape-Nuts food is that it is partially pre-digested in the process of manufacture. The starch contained in the wheat and barely is transformed into a form of sugar by the same method as this process is carried out in the human body; that is, by the use of moisture and long exposure to moderate warmth, which grows the distasteful in the grains, and with long baking makes the remarkable change from starch to sugar.

Therefore, the most delicate stomach can handle Grape-Nuts and the food is quickly absorbed into the blood and tissue, certain parts of it going directly to building and nourishing both body and brain. "There's a Reason."

Mayor Makes Suggestion About Approach Of Bridge

The mayor on Thursday addressed the following communication on the subject of the West End bridge approach and flood defense system:

August 12th, 1915.

Mr. J. A. Bode,
Chairman, Committee representing the Board of Trade and Retail Merchants' Association, My dear Mr. Bode:—

Permit me to suggest that your committee confer with the county commissioners and their Mr. Somerville relative to laying the tracks from the bridge to intersect the rails of the street railway east of Massie street; to continue the flood wall west of the street entering the bridge to a point where the two levels intersect; then take care of the three houses now located on the street east of the opening leading to the bridge; then restore this short section of flood wall from the B. & O. track to where it intersects the flood levels near the bridge.

These matters are important and should be taken care of at once to the end that the work of paving this street leading to the bridge may be undertaken not later than Sept. 1, 1915.

In conversation with Mr. Somerville this morning at his office he advises that the street railway company prefer to join the tracks as suggested at this time; that the county proposes to pave the street leading to the bridge; that sidewalks and the flood wall on the east side would be taken care of by the county; that the question of carrying the wall west of the opening to the bridge would likely be provided by the county; then the question of the three houses remains to be disposed of, and it is my opinion that you may likewise induce the county to make this purchase and thus in the most perfect manner complete the entrance to the new bridge.

Then if the boulevard around the point Second, Scioto and Front streets is maintained nothing better or more serviceable can be done.

The present break in the wall where the bridge washed away can be restored upon substantially the present earth and the foundation protected by piling, stone and willows which will care for the base for some years, and if the engineer's claims are to be considered as practical then this channel will change westward and this bank will restore itself naturally.

I hope that the county will take care of all except perhaps the break at the point and I am not certain but what that should also be done by the commissioners, because the bridge washing away produced the opening and by them relocating the abutments left the cavity uncare for. Had they started the bridge where the cavity is the abutment would have practically restored the damage.

Respectfully submitted,
ADAM FRICK, Mayor.

Don't Use Curling Iron! Here's a Better Method

(Woman Beautiful)
By no means use a curling iron. It makes the hair dry and dead looking, giving a most unkempt appearance. After brushing the hair thoroughly, just dip a clean tooth brush in a saucer of pink liquid silencer and run it through the parts of the hair to be curled. Do this at bedtime and you will be quite surprised when you behold yourself in the mirror next morning. The hair will be beautifully wavy and curling and the effect will appear altogether natural. You will have no trouble doing up your tresses in the style you desire and they will look and feel fluffy and comfortable. You need not hesitate to use pure liquid silencer, which you can procure at any druggist's, as it is perfectly harmless and will leave no greasy, gummy or sticky traces. A few ounces will last for months, particularly as one application keeps the hair in curl for so long a time.

MEXICANS MAY SEIZE PART OF TEXAS; REIGN OF TERROR EXISTS ON BORDER

GOVERNOR APPEALS FOR MORE SOLDIERS TO FIGHT RAIDERS

Brownsville, Texas, Aug. 12.—Action by the federal government in response to the appeal to President Wilson made by Governor Ferguson, of Texas, who asked for an increase of troops in the lower Rio Grande valley, was awaited today by officials who so far have not been successful in fully combating the depredations of bands of Mexican ranch raiders who, in the last several days, have caused the deaths of nearly a score of persons in this section. Governor Ferguson, in his appeal, declared the situation was perilous and grave and was doubtful of the ability of the state forces and local officers to longer control the situation.

Citizens of Brownsville and other border cities did not agree that the troubles were due to political feuds in this section. Considerable evidence seems to be brought forward that the raiders were organized into several bands working under the plan of San Diego, a movement started a year ago at San Diego, Texas, where resolutions were passed declaring for wresting from the United States a strip of territory along the border to be added to Mexico.

While the situation was expected to be partly relieved with the arrival in this section of the third battalion,

"GERMANY MUST CUT WAY TO TURK CAPITAL"

Amsterdam, via London, Aug. 12.—Discussing the Balkan situation in the Tages Zeitung, Comat Revonlow declares that Germany must cut her way through to Constantinople and make the new Triple Alliance a reality.

The demand for direct communication between Hungary and Turkey, he writes, "has found expression more and more energetically during the past few months. Among the securities which the new Triple Alliance needs and must obtain, is permanent security of the political, economic and military lines between Constantinople and Berlin and Vienna. The Alliance can develop full strength and highest effect only when the Allied powers possess assured communication. In times of peace no less than now the Triple Alliance will constitute a strategic factor and the rapid, thorough building up of this factor is our most immediate task."

MEXICAN MEETINGS INTEREST RIO JANEIRO

Rio Janeiro, Aug. 12.—The efforts of the Pan-American republics to settle the Mexican problem are being followed here with keen interest. The national chamber approved a motion asking the Brazilian foreign office for information as soon as possible regarding the state of negotiations.

The newspapers continue to emphasize that no attack is contemplated upon the sovereignty of Mexico.

SINKS ENGLISH BOAT, THEN HIS OWN SHIP

London, August 12.—The British warship Ramsby has been sunk in the North Sea by the German ship Meteor, it was officially announced today. The Meteor as it was being chased by British vessels, was blown up by its commander. Lloyd's has received a report that the French ship Francis has been sunk and her crew landed safely.

The fishing smack Ocean Gift, Esperance and George Borrows have been sunk. Their crews were landed.

U. S. WANTS DATA ON AMERICAN ARSENALS

Washington, Aug. 12.—Announcement that the war department had asked American manufacturers of war munitions for data as to their facilities for furnishing supplies, in the event of an emergency, led to some speculation here today, although officials explained that the action was in accordance with the usual practice both in normal times as well as in war. The announcement declared emphatically that no purchases of war supplies was contemplated at present.

The step, it is explained, was made necessary because of the fact that practically every private plant in the country is taxed to its capacity filling big orders from the warring nations of Europe. General inquiry has been instituted to ascertain whether expansion of facilities has kept pace with the demand and whether the government would be certain of a source of supply to supplement the output of its arsenals and armors which ordinarily produce only a part of the supplies needed. It is expected that congress at its forthcoming session will enact legislation to strengthen the national defenses necessitating increased demands for supplies, aside from any emergency that may arise.

PRESIDENT IS BACK IN WASHINGTON

Washington, Aug. 12.—President Wilson, returning from Cornish, N. H., reached the White House shortly after 9:30 a. m. today. He will confer with Secretary Lansing on the Mexican, Haitian and other foreign situations.

Want Army Camp Stationed At Chicago

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Establishment of an army training camp for Chicago similar to the one at Plattsburg, N. Y., will be asked of the war department.

London, Aug. 12.—A wireless dispatch received here today from Berlin says that French aviators dropped bombs on Zweibrücken, Tsank and Ingbert, killing eight persons and wounding several others. The property damage was small.

PEACE CONFERENCE IS PAN-AMERICAN PLEA

Washington, Aug. 12.—With the return here today of President Wilson and Secretary of State Lansing, important developments were looked for in connection with plans for pacification of Mexico.

It was believed that steps would be taken immediately to dispatch to the Mexican factional leaders the appeal of the Pan-American conference. This appeal drafted and signed at the conference in New York yesterday between Secretary Lansing and the diplomatic representatives of the six Pan-American nations, calls upon the factions to settle their difficulties and restore peace in the southern republic. It suggests that a peace conference be held.

Secretary Lansing was to confer with the president today and lay before him the text of the appeal finally agreed on. He was to prepare a statement in explanation of the appeal.

No further conferences are expected between Secretary Lansing and the diplomats pending the receipt of replies from the Mexican factions, to the appeal. Responses are not looked for under ten days or two weeks.

Officials were optimistic today over the prospects of peace in Mexico in spite of the attitude of General Carranza.

MAY INCREASE FORCE ON MEXICAN BORDER

Washington, Aug. 12.—War department officials awaited news today from Major General Funston as to whether he needed additional troops along the border to deal with Mexican raiders. Upon his report will depend whether the United States forces there will be strengthened.

Unofficial advice said that General Funston had submitted a report on the situation and that Governor Ferguson, of Texas, had appealed to President Wilson for Federal aid, adding that conditions were "perilous and grave." Further strengthening of the border forces will take practically all available regular troops in the country. There are said to be 12,000 men available for that purpose. General Funston has ready on the border and in Texas City about 17,000 troops.

Officials declared emphatically that any troop movement or the dispatch of warships to southern waters had no bearing whatever upon plans of the Pan-American conference for ending the revolution in Mexico and would be merely a precautionary step.

EXCURSIONISTS FROM MT. STERLING ABOARD

Columbus, Aug. 12.—Four persons were killed and sixteen were injured when an excursion train was in rear end collision with a freight train at Orient Station, on the Baltimore and Ohio railroad, 14 miles south of this city.

The dead and injured were members of a party from Mt. Sterling, Ohio, who were returning from their annual outing at Cedar Point.

The passenger train had stopped to take water and the freight train crashed into it from the rear. The injured are being brought to Columbus hospitals.

The train passed through Columbus about 1:30 a. m. and it was said that most of the passengers were asleep in the seats of one coach when the heavy freight train crashed into the car bearing the excursionists who were members of the Knights of Pythias lodge at Mt. Sterling. The coroner of Pickaway county has gone to the scene of the wreck to hold an inquest.

The spot at which the train was wrecked today was the scene of a similar accident about three years ago, except that the extent of the disaster was not so great at that time.

The dead: Logan Holler, farmer, living near Five Points, Pickaway county.

Margaret Sollars, daughter of James Sollars, of near Mount Sterling.

Thornie Neff, aged 25, of near Mount Sterling.

Thad Mitchell, aged 14, son of David Mitchell, of near Mount Sterling.

Seriously injured: Oleo Sollars, sister of Margaret; injuries probably fatal.

George Grosplaus and wife, Mt. Sterling.

Thad Miller, grocery clerk, Mt. Sterling.

Earl Johnson, aged 16, of Five Points.

Mrs. Thornie Neff, of near Mt. Sterling, probably fatally hurt.

Webster Junk, aged 14, Mt. Sterling, collar bone and wrist fractured and possible internal hurts.

Edward Lynch, aged 24, Mt. Sterling; fractured leg and crushed chest.

Carl Richelaser, aged 16, Mt. Sterling, hurt internally.

Prof. Harvey Finley, aged 30, of Williamsport, (Pennsylvania) college, broken right arm and internal hurts.

Gilbert Hill, aged 14, arm and leg broken.

Virgie Sollars, sister of Margaret, leg broken.

Ross Gilbert, aged 16, leg broken and internally hurt.

A special train bearing doctors and nurses, and in charge of Dr. Roderick Wittick, of Mt. Sterling arrived about an hour after the wreck occurred, and the injured were given prompt attention. Some of the more seriously injured were taken to the hospital of Dr. J. A. Knight at Orient.

Traveling Passenger Agent C. F. B. Dickinson, of the Baltimore and Ohio was sitting in the next to the last seat in the rear coach. He heard the freight coming and jumped before the crash occurred.

Several of the injured, including Mrs. Thornie Neff, wife of one of the dead men, are believed to have been fatally injured.

The freight crew said the excursion was ahead of them but understood their orders gave the freight train a clear track.

U. S. INFANTRY

Houston, Texas, Aug. 12.—Thomas Fowler, owner of the only store at Katherine, Wilcox county, reported that a band of thirty or more Mexicans made an attack on the store there. They were surprised by the return of their fire from 12 United States Infantry, who had been stationed in the store, and the Mexicans quickly retired to cover and escaped. It is thought two of the bandits were injured.

A COMMON QUALITY.

Frequently one hears his acquaintances say: "I have no memory." The assertion is an exaggeration, but taking it at the real intent, my memory is poor; it is still essentially an exaggeration.

What is actually meant is that recollection is not so good as would be wished for. It is one of the most generous and equitable provisions of nature that we are all on much like an equal basis in so far as the faculty, or talent, of memory is concerned. The variation apparent is because one keeps diligent the handmaiden of memory, observation and concentration, while the other does not. Yet, if the seemingly less favored were to cultivate memory persistently he would make the other show great lack therein, instead of himself.

The most effective of all aids to memory is observation, the training of the eye, which involves inseparably the fixing of the mind. If you go into a strange street, make an optical note as to how it is paved, the quality of the sidewalks, say to yourself, the first house on the corner is two-stories, has four windows down stairs on the side from which I am approaching, and only two upstairs, and one of them small; it is just painted and would look better if it had a porch and a better kept lawn. If you pass a display window, do not stop to gaze idly into it, merely to pass a bit of time away; cast merely a glance at it, and when you are by recall how it looked and enumerate the things you have seen in it. Keep your eyes always open and memory will expand. The only time when you should shut your eyes is when you are reading. If you run across a particularly striking passage, or find something of unusual value, something it would be worth while to remember, read it over a second time, close your eyes and repeat it in so far as you can to yourself. A splendid help to impressing it lastingly, will be to note the part of the article in which it occurs, on which side, right or left page and about the number of lines.

Women are especially prone to declare they can't remember a thing, yet, if anything, their memory is more acute than that of men. Walk down the street with one, and just after she has said that, ask how the other woman who just passed by and of whom she gave evidently no notice, is dressed and she will give you every detail of her costume. Take her into a parlor for a formal call and when she comes out she can tell you of every piece of furniture, its arrangement, its condition and possible cost, though good painters would not permit her to indicate that she saw anything at all, except her host's face. Lead her to a dinner table and though she be struck blind before the guests were seated she could tell over its every appointment. Dress and the home are her immediate interests, she is interested enough in them to use her powers of observation. What she attains thereby in certain directions could be extended to broader fields by a like interest and effort.

The basic stock-in-trade of the modern musician is the encompassment of the eye, that is his own eye and the lack of it in his patrons. The most celebrated sleight-of-hand performers were the two Houdinis. They began training for their career by training the eye, which is but an outward form of expression for the fact that they trained their memory. They began by laying one domino on a table and casting a hurried glance at it, trying to note the spots on it. They kept at this, day after day, until they could at a mere glimpse reckon the total number of spots on as many as a dozen dominoes. They would also go out on the street and look for windows with many objects in it. When they found one they would hurry by it and when past, take out a book and write down what they had seen therein. In time they were able to glimpse a window and set down as many as thirty or forty articles they had seen.

Bully for the commissioners. They have taken the right step in regard to the towpath and cut off road work. These roads should be ready for use by the time the bridge is done and the way to do it is to enforce the law for the collection of fines from bondsmen of contractors.

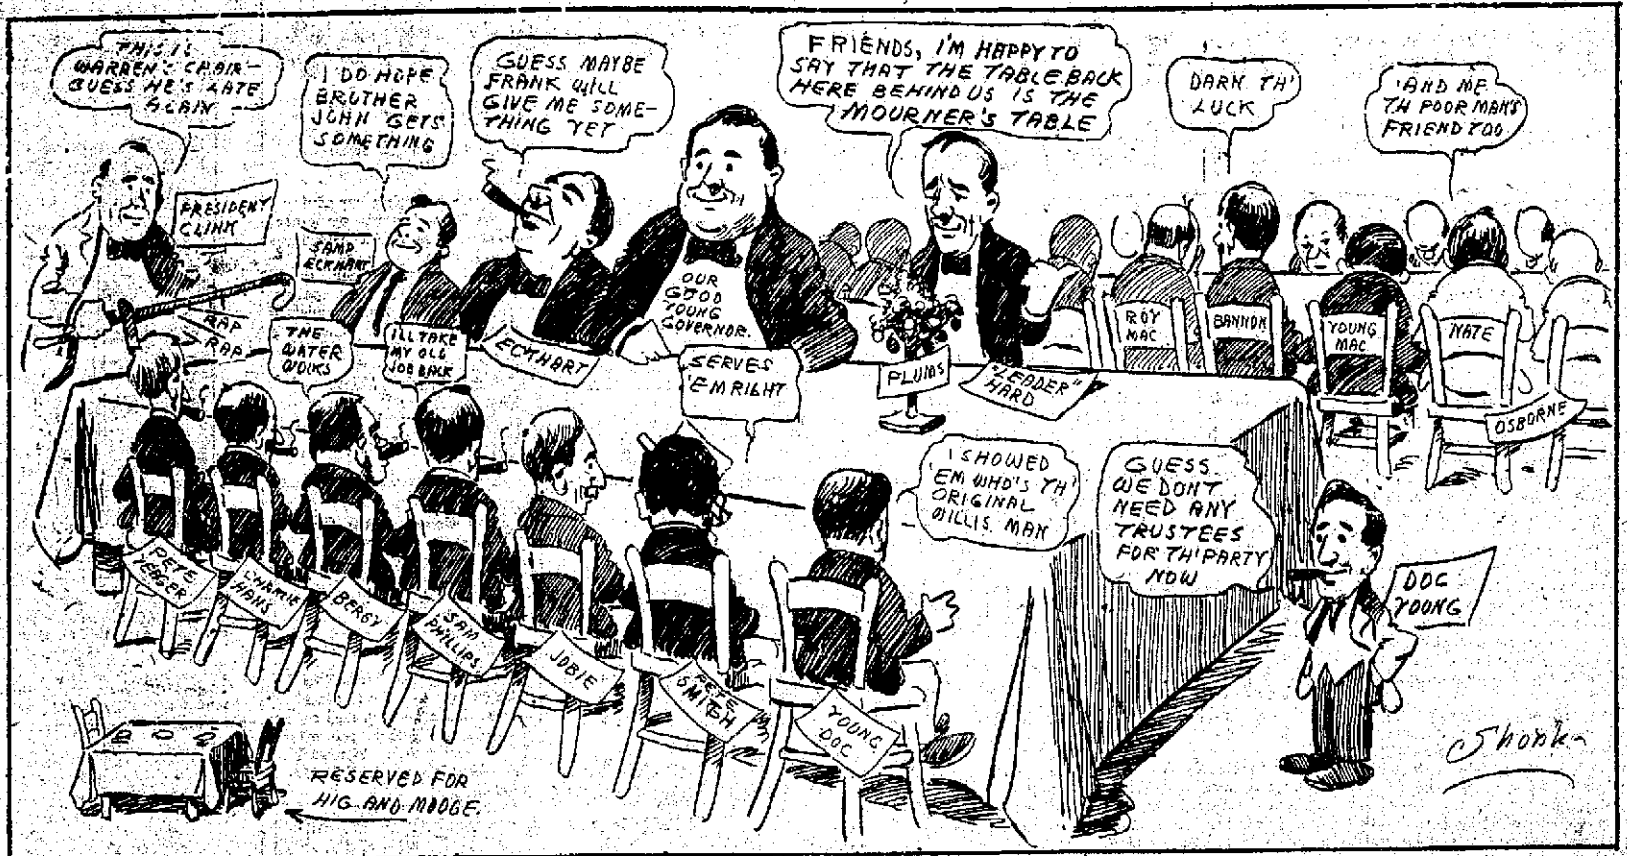

It is a little bit late, but still we wish to call attention to the fact that the Siamese twins, Hig and Moore will have to do a lot of explaining and apologizing an professing of faith if they ever expect to get in hailing distance of the pie counter, provided Kaps wins. The glorious twins picked out the wrong winner this time.

What is the country coming to anyway? Tuesday was primary day and not a single "extra" policeman was given the job of guarding the polls! Ample excuse for appointments, too, could be found in the law and the bloody threats of extermination and reprisal that the G. O. P. factions have been making against each other.

Sit down this afternoon and give a calm thought as to why the heathenish politicians for weeks and up to Tuesday have been raving. See if you can make yourself believe it was for your interest they have been rampaging around and about.

Scioto county's fair, which will be held at Lucasville, next week, ought to be some show this year.

THE NEW GET-TOGETHER BANQUET---JUST A SUGGESTION.

Judging from the size of that vote received by the Hon. Nate B. Gilliland, we were quite right in saying that he was busily digging a mine, and would bear watching. If Nate had only had a little more time to get about with that speech of his he would have blown all of his enemies off the political map.

McCormick made a sensational campaign, a sensational race and he almost landed first under the wire. And he capped it all by being a good loser. He will be heard of if he keeps in politics.

Now let's everybody forget politics for a few weeks, take in the Harrisonville picnic, travel to the Lucasville fair and all boast the Korn Karnival.

A good many of our exchanges are prolific of hot weather hints. Very philanthropic in them, but effort wasted. There is no hot weather to fit the counsel.

The fellows who won no more believed or guessed it than those who lost. All were simply hoping and feeling it would go their way.

It is conclusive those Russ are no fair weather fighters. Winter isn't so very far off at that.

There is nothing in a name or names. Governor Rye, of Tennessee, and Governor Brewer, of Mississippi, are both rampant prohibitionists.

How the times change. A little while back when the price of beef and flour went up, there was always a deal of explanation. Now the elevation is made and that is all there is to it.

The contractors say they will finish the new Scioto bridge in October. The one thing certain about that is that it will not be finished before.

MAKE THE ROADS BETTER

BY JESSE TAYLOR
Editor of Better Roads and Streets

Get at it with a road scraper and cut the sod off of the sides of your roads and let the water away.

County road officials must get together and determine upon a practicable plan for repair and maintenance—free from graft or pension—and one that will give a dollar's worth of service for each dollar expended.

Water and clay, or ordinary earth, when mixed invariably form mud. Keep all of these off of the surface of the road.

Keep your road free from water and dry if you expect it to remain hard, smooth and free from mud and slush.

Keep the holes and ruts filled and crowned with a slope toward the side ditches and the water will not collect along the road and soak into it.

How about your ditches? Are they free from weeds, or are you going to permit them to choke up and dam the water back along the road.

Build the culverts so that the water will, of necessity, flow through them and not find a way around or beneath them.

If your culverts have not been properly built then tear them out, put in new ones and save the roads.

As the Washington Times interprets it, if wishes were horses beggars nowadays would prefer a sixty horse power car.

As we read the war news Germany wins her battles on the land, the Allies their's on the telegraph wire.

At least we can all be glad it is over.

Them as has must lose and sometimes those who have least lose most.

Now science is trying to prove "there ain't no such" thing as a hoop snake. Poor science, it must never have been a boy.

OLD NEW YORK

By Mr. J. H. H. H.

New York, August 12.—Percy G. Williams, who sold his flock of vaudeville theatres to the late B. F. Keith and retired with his million, is to take back his playhouses according to the rumor that has been zipping up and down the Rialto.

Williams owned the Colonial, Alhambra, Orpheum, Crescent, and several others. They were high class vaudeville houses and the selling stipulation was that they should remain so if Williams would take his bank roll and remain out of the theatrical game.

The Keith people bought the theatres on the fringe of a bad theatrical period and with the mighty leaps of the movie into the arena of popular affection the losses must have been quite heavy. However, they built the Palace theatre, which, since Diamantstein's Victoria was dismantled, has become the most popular vaudeville house in town. It is rumored that Williams is quite anxious to get back in the game and the Keith people are equally willing that he shall take back his theatres.

Howard Aetonn, a Washington newspaper man, was noticed on Broadway the other day in one of those light flimsy suits so popular in Florida. He prided himself on the fact that it was the only one he had seen along the White Way. Cheekily he stepped into his hotel and the grinning negro bell boys were all wearing a suit of the same material.

It is estimated by Park Row city editors that an average of 50 aspiring reporters come to New York each week from the hamlets and cities of the United States. They come for jobs—many leaving safe berths to gamble on their luck in the metropolis.

While newspaper staffs are as shifting as desert sands yet very few secure jobs because there are too many competent newspapermen just now out of work and who know the game.

When David G. Croly was managing editor of the World and a nervous young cub would apply for a position he would ask:

"Why don't you force me to hire you?"

This of course was a poser and it would be followed up with this advice: "Bring in news; that no one else can get, and that ought to be printed—news we will have to buy. Soon your bills will be so large that it will be cheaper for me to hire you than to pay you for special work." That is the real way to land a job in New York and it is not a frivolous light hearted task.

Lew Fields, who is gouging out Joe Weber's eyes daily in vaudeville this summer, thinks it is rightly called free verse. "Who would pay for it?" he asks.

The Bravest Battle

The bravest battle that ever was fought!

Shall I tell you where and when?

On the maps of the world you will find it not.

It was fought by the mothers of men.

Nay, not with cannon or battle shot,

With sword or noble pen;

Nay, not with the eloquent words or thought,

From the mouths of wonderful men,

But deep in a walled-up woman's heart—

Of woman that would not yield, But patiently, silently bore her part—

Lo! there in that battle field, No marshalling troops, no bivouac song;

No banner to gleam and wave; And, O, these battles they last so long—

From babyhood to the grave! Yet, faithful still as a bride of stars,

She fights in her walled-up town—

Fights on and on in the endless wars,

Then, silent, unseen—goes down.

—Leslie Bayliss in Charleston Gazette.

Alleges Liquor Furnished By Saloon Man To Various Men During Primary Election

An affidavit was filed against Bird Garthee, a saloonkeeper, by Police Chief W. T. McCarthy Thursday morning jointly charging him, his bartender, William Redden and his porter, O. P. Stewart with furnishing liquor to various persons on primary election day.

The three men are accused of furnishing liquor to Charles Welch "Cotton" Taylor, Louis Arnold, Charles Kaylor, James Dobbins and Ex-Policeman "Cotton" Gansley. Mr. Garthee, as soon as he learned the nature of the charges arranged to provide bond if necessary. Grocer Levi C. Cook agreeing to go his security. Chief McCarthy claims to have evidence that four kegs of beer were taken out of a room in the Garthee building at No. 921 Chillicothe street that adjoins his bar room and were removed two at a time. These were taken to Stewart's stable in a nearby alley, he claims.

The accused deny that there was any selling done, declaring that they were within their rights having beer in a stable and permitting friends to come and help themselves.

The men were released on $100 bond each to appear for trial tomorrow morning, Mr. Cook going on their bond.

YOUTH RELEASED FROM WORKHOUSE

The mayor Thursday ordered the release of Henry Smith from the Cincinnati workhouse.

A written request from Smith for his release a few days ago met with the prompt reply that his offense was too serious to justify any such action. He was committed to the workhouse on May 10th.

FIGHT ENGLISH SPARROWS WITH ROMAN CANDLES

Shooting sparrows with roman candles is the latest pastime of the East End residents. It is estimated that hundreds of sparrows roost in the large shade trees surrounding the home of Geo. Storms striking the trees have killed several hundred birds within the past week.

FRAUD CHARGE IS MADE IN THE IRONTON PRIMARY; PROBE IS TO BE MADE

According to the Morning Iron-tonian, there is going to be a probe of the recent primary in that city by a grand jury in Judge Corn's court, allegations being made by T. J. Kennedy, a defeated candidate for the Republican nomination for mayor, that his opponents resorted to unlawful methods to control votes of those subject to influence.

The Iron-tonian's statement says: "From inside sources comes the information that the conduct of the recent primaries on the part of the Republicans, especially the Hannan faction, is to be investigated by the coming grand jury."

"A meeting was held Monday afternoon at T. J. Kennedy's office, which was attended by a number of his friends and supporters. At the meeting, statements relating to "keg" parties both before and election day, and "loaning" of money, and especially the "keg" parties which lined the river bank along the West Iron-ton bank, according to statements freely made, were shaped up to be presented to Judge Corn, who will be asked to present the facts to the coming grand jury.

"On election day a party of two 'kegs' was held in the Fourth ward, back of the tile works, and it is said this party was liberally attended. Officer Taylor rushed the party, but they got in the clear before any of them could be recognized or apprehended. It is very likely that there will be some rich developments in this direction before long."

FEMININE FACTS and FANCIES

HERE is a quaint story somewhere in the letters of Dickens about two old ladies in Switzerland. Their house stood high, and as they grew older they found the mountain air trying. Why not move down to the valley? The question presented a superior smile. So easy to talk of such a tremendous change! Move down to the valley, indeed! Why, what would become of the library? They could not bear to abandon the library to leave it unattended for or to subject it to the perils of removal. So they stayed up in the trying mountain air. And Dickens, having seen the great library, prophesied that when the poor old ladies were gone some girl would carry off all the books in her basket.

LOVE OF BEAUTY A VIRTUE

Every one knows persons that like these old women—persons who are owned by their property instead of owning it. In a pleasant little story from the pen of a very modern writer we are given a clever study of another phase of this complex little problem of the relation of a woman to her possessions. Edna, a great dealer, has come to some fame and considerable fortune partly because she had a genuine love of beautiful things. She can hardly bear to sell her most precious acquisitions, though selling is her trade.

Now nobody would deny that this affection for beauty, wherever it may be found, is in its way a virtue. In general and the abstract a man or a woman is likely to be the better for being fond of good design and cunning craftsmanship.

This does not lead you to the hopelessly irrational conclusion that "collecting" of all sorts is a moral pursuit. People may, and in fact they do, collect almost any object in nature or civilization. The small princeling who amasses cherry stones and buttons has his exact parallel among the grown-up. Cherry stones are neither useful nor beautiful. Their value is purely sentimental, being created by the ferocity of the rival collectors. They have no interest of their own. It would be easy enough to name articles much sought after by the adult of which exactly the same can be said.

As far as such uninteresting collections are concerned it is plain that devotion to them has at best no good influence on the collector. His efforts after more cherry stones are rather likely to conduct him into breaches of the tenth and other commandments than to more elevated paths. There is no ennobling effect from the contemplation of piles of cherry stones or even a treasury of buttons. But, after all, such collections of the useless are still the exception and not the rule. The collecting impulse is generally exercised upon things which have some beauty or grace or intellectual interest, and it is more platitudinous to remark that people who care for such things are in general better worth liking than those who do not.

But while "collecting" undoubtedly has its good effects it also has some bad ones. For instance, the man or woman who begins collecting usually ends by caring more for his "sticks and stones"—that is, his beautiful possessions—than for anything else in the world. He sometimes puts even his wife and children second to his art objects. He is, in fact, owned by his property rather than owning it.

This is obviously a vice not confined to collectors. A man may not care a cent for any beautiful thing on earth, and yet be wholly in the grip of his property. Then he call him a miser. If we are to make comparisons the collector certainly has the advantage. It is a more gracious state to live for your child or your childless than to live for your bank account. But there is another way in which the passion for ownership damages many collectors. They want to make property of people as well as things, to treat their wives and daughters or husbands and sons like the other objects of art in their collection.

A PROPRIETARY INTEREST.

Again, it is a spirit not confined to the collector. Most of us, unless we are marvellously easy-going, have some share of it. We do like to have other people at our disposal, to lay down the law for them and arrange their future, to say to one and his coach, to another come and do come, to a third do this and also do that. Cynics have even been known to hint at the horrid heredity that parental love of children is inspired and stimulated by this proprietary interest, and they are not surprised to see a child's inheritance being squandered. In which theory there is as much with cynicism, just enough truth

IN THE WAKE OF TEUTON ADVANCE; WOUNDED AND DYING RUSS

City Dark When Gas Flickers; Cars Are Also Forced To Stop

Portsmouth was wrapped in darkness, about twenty-five minutes early Wednesday evening, due to trouble at the gas reducing station on Galia street. The gas company is making repairs to its line at Sciotoville, during which time it is necessary to throw in a temporary gauge. While the watchman was away for a few minutes, some one tampered with the temporary gauge, making it show an untrue reading. This caused the gas supply to run low and the lights about the city in some places to go out.

The lack of gas also caused trouble at the power house, where gas is business under the boilers. Before coal could be started burning under the boilers, the arc lights had been out a half hour and the street cars had been stopped for twenty-five minutes. The incandescent lights did not go entirely out, but were very low.

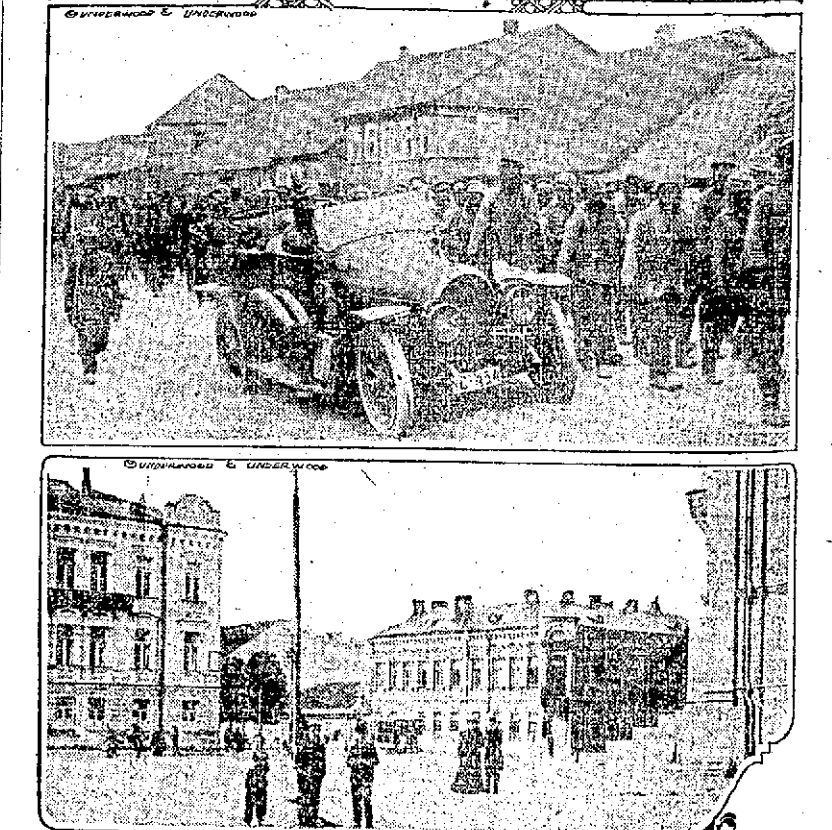

Moving picture houses were inconvenienced, the shows being halted temporarily.

The trouble was remedied in half an hour.

Blasts Are Too Strong.

City officials have arranged with complainants to notify them when the blasting done by Contractor Frank Seymour in the Cecil S. Miller addition becomes so intense as to jar their properties and he will then be called upon to cause the practice or injunction proceedings will be instituted against him. The blasting is being done in removing dirt to make the fill for the Lawson Run viaduct, or overhead crossing, and has been the subject of much complaint from Hill-top citizens.

RUSS CAPTIVES TAKEN BY GERMANS; KOVNO, CITY THEY MENACE

In their tremendous eastern drive the Germans have taken thousands of Russian prisoners and a steady stream of captives pours westward while the Teutonic forces sweep on to the east. Upper photo shows a few concentration camps in Poland, guarded by their captors, on their way to the German Warsaw-Petrograd railway, which is now threatened by the Germans.
